Then let your own journey of discovery begin... you will weave the fabric of your own memories from the many strands of history and life that still goes on within these walls today.

Have a wonderful stay!

The stories of more than fifteen centuries of the history of Dubrovnik are reflected in every part of the City. Sometimes it may rather feel like a living museum – but you will find that it also has its own vibrant present. Part of the character of the City derives from the imposing presence of the medieval walls that surround it. A walk around these walls, almost two kilometres long, looking down on the impressive architecture of the town, on its small streets, gardens and terraces, and on the other side, upon the sea that has determined so much of its history; perhaps this is the best way to get a first impression of Dubrovnik.

A UNESCO World Heritage Site since 1979, Dubrovnik is sometimes considered to be primarily a cultural destination, offering a rich variety of historic monuments as well as a large number of cultural events and festivals. But it is also a place for a relaxing holiday, for a time spent on a beach, enjoying the warmth and clarity of the sea, a time to sit at a café and let the world pass by, and to find a small back street restaurant with the best of fresh local food.

Dubrovnik is a fascinating city: we invite you to discover it for yourself and we sincerely hope that what you find will tempt you to return many times over.

What you should know about the history of Dubrovnik

Historians are still not completely clear on the emergence of Dubrovnik as a settlement. Some archaeological finds indicate that it is likely that the first settlement was formed in the 2nd century as a fortified military camp or castrum in the Roman Empire, as is evidenced by the remains of a very spacious Roman-Byzantine basilica from about 5th or 6th century. It can therefore be said that Dubrovnik is over 1,600 years old.

The strong and steady development of the city over the centuries was facilitated by Dubrovnik's excellent geographical position on the eastern coast of the Adriatic Sea and the constant development of sea traffic and technology, to the extent that in the 15th century the Dubrovnik merchant fleet had about 300 ships and about 4,000 seamen which, along with the Venetian fleet, made it the largest fleet in the Mediterranean.

On the other hand, through wise diplomacy and patient negotiation, Dubrovnik secured the benefits of trade on the mainland, and as a intermediary between the 'world' of sea and land transport, the city gained wealth both constantly and rapidly.

As a territory, Dubrovnik declared itself an "independent commune" in the 10th century, and some hundred years later it became an independent republic and remained so until 1808 when the general circumstances in Europe (Napoleon's wars of conquest) led to its abolishment.

At the head of the Republic there was the Rector (hence Rector's Palace) and a government consisting of three councils, all elected from the circle of Dubrovnik's aristocratic families. Ordinary people did not have the right to vote, but the small state was lawful, enjoyed excellent leadership and ensured subsistence and security for everyone.

In addition to public investment – in buildings and forts, public administration buildings, health care (13th century), a sewage system (14th century), running water (15th century), the first quarantine in the world (14th century), a home for the elderly and in need (15th century), etc., the state was also a great patron of all kinds of art. The oldest preserved written music from 1106 is preserved in the apothecary of the Franciscan monastery, which has been in continuous operation since 1317 and is among the three oldest pharmacies in the world, while Dubrovnik literature makes up a large portion of the history of Croatian literature. The first public open air show, something akin to present-day opera, was commissioned by the town administration from a local author and the show was put on in front of the building of the government in 1552. That year can be considered the beginning of the Dubrovnik theatre, which is still in operation to this day, as well as the inception of the world famous Dubrovnik Summer Festival, which began with open air theatre plays and concerts held on city squares.

Following the Republic of Croatia's declaration of independence and subsequent Serbian aggression on Croatian territory, Dubrovnik was attacked in October of 1991. The Serbians and the Montenegrins aimed to conquer and destroy the region, attacking with an unprecedented destructive force. All of the Dubrovnik region, except for the territory of the Old Town and its closer quarters, was occupied, pillaged and heavily devastated. The City stood an eight-month long siege, without water and electricity supply, with 21000 refugees from the area, suffering frequent bombardments and living a life of utter hardships. Yet once again, it proved its power of mind and spirit and did not give up. Its heroic defence was a paramount contribution to the international recognition of the independence of Croatia.

How to get here

BY PLANE

The Dubrovnik Airport is about 20 kilometres away from the City. Upon arrival, bus transport to Dubrovnik is available for each scheduled flight. Several petrol stations are situated on the approach to Dubrovnik and in the City, some of which are open 24 hours. Petrol stations are shown on the City map.

Parking

If you wish to visit the Old City with your own car, we recommend the multi-story car park at Ilijina Glavica (Zagrebačka ulica bb). It is open 24 hours and has 711 parking spaces. From there, a walk through The Bogišić Park or along Pero Budmani Street will take you down to the Old City in just 5 minutes.

Street parking spaces are marked by signs that include payment instructions and hourly parking rates. Parking can be paid by parking coupons obtained at kiosks and at parking metres. Parking coupons must be filled in correctly and displayed under the front windscreen of your car. Please prepare the exact amount for the required number of parking hours, because the coin-operated parking machine cannot give you change.

Apart from using an hourly parking ticket with its time limit, the user of the parking space should display a valid parking ticket on his car windscreen.

The public car park at Gruž Harbour (Obala pape Ivana Pavla II 1) is also open 24 hours.

For more information about parking visit <http://www.sanitat.hr/en/>.

BY BOAT

Dubrovnik has excellent ferry and catamaran connections to other Croatian ports and to Bari in Italy. Dubrovnik also has multiple daily boat services to the nearby islands (Koločep, Lopud, Šipan and Mljet, and seasonal lines to Korčula and Lastovo). Gruž Harbour is located 3 kilometres from the Old City, or about a 30-minute walk, with Jadrolinija ferry ticket office, banks, ATMs, exchange offices, car parks, food shops, a supermarket, the Srđ Department Store, the open-air green market, Hotel Petka, several agencies, car rentals, restaurants and cafes, and an office of the Dubrovnik Tourist Board TIC. The Old City is about 30 minutes walk from the harbour. Local (orange) bus lines 1a, 1b, 1c, 3 and 8 will take you there in about ten minutes. Bus tickets can be purchased on the bus for 15,00 Kn, or can be obtained from any news-kiosk for 12,00 Kn. There is a taxi stand very close to the harbour.

BY BUS

The Dubrovnik Bus Terminal is situated in Gruž, in the vicinity of the harbour. In addition to information and booking offices, it offers a left-luggage office, taxi stand and kiosks. Apart from international bus lines, Dubrovnik has daily lines to all major Croatian cities. Several local bus lines stop at the Bus Terminal as well.

What

form of transport to choose

PUBLIC BUS TRANSPORT

During your stay in Dubrovnik we recommend the public bus service. You will enjoy a pleasant ride on the new air-conditioned buses of the Libertas Public Transport Company, all painted orange and therefore easily visible. All City districts are connected by frequent regular bus lines. Time-tables are displayed at every bus stop and are also available at the Dubrovnik Tourist Board TIC, at your hotel reception desk or online (www.libertasdubrovnik.hr).

Bus tickets can be obtained from the bus driver (15,00 Kn), at kiosks for 12,00 Kn, at the Libertas Company ticket-windows at Pile Gate, at the Bus Terminal and in Mokošica, at hotel reception desks and travel agencies. Please prepare the exact amount for the tickets purchased on the bus, because the driver cannot return the change. Your bus ticket, after being registered for the first time, is valid for one hour for an unlimited number of rides within the City. The price for a daily ticket is 30,00 Kn.

The magnetic card payment system involves turning the front side with the magnetic strip towards you and inserting it into the ticket-machine in the bus, after which the ticket is returned to you.

If you have a contactless bus ticket, you merely press it against the sensor.

CAR, SCOOTER, BIKE, and BOAT HIRE

Many agencies in Dubrovnik provide hire services. Apart from cars, it is also possible to rent scooters, bicycles and boats. A rented vehicle will give you the freedom to explore the surroundings of Dubrovnik and the sights of the neighbouring countryside. Most of the agencies will ask you to present your credit card and your driving licence. For renting a motorcycle over 50 cc you will need a category A driving licence. For renting a boat you need a valid skipper licence.

TAXI

Taxi stands are located in the busiest parts of the City (see City Map), with signs and taxi fares posted in a prominent place. The taximeter must be running from the start of the trip; if not, the customer is not obliged to pay the fare. A taxi normally accommodates a maximum of four people. Should you wish to lodge a complaint about service for any reason, get a receipt from the driver with a valid stamp, with quoted service and the licence plates number. Note: there are three taxi companies in Dubrovnik, therefore it is necessary to have the proper contact for your complaint. You may like to take a taxi for a memorable panoramic tour of the City and its surroundings. Such a tour usually includes a drive to the new bridge offering a view of Gruž Harbour, Lapad, The Rijeka Dubrovačka and the islands. You may continue the tour along the Adriatic Highway with a view over the entire City, and go to the top of Mount Srdj (415 metres) above the town and enjoy the superb view of Dubrovnik and the surrounding area.

You may also arrange a whole or half day excursion to the surroundings of Dubrovnik in agreement with the driver (www.taxi-dubrovnik.hr, www.taxi-ragusa-dubrovnik.com, PlaviTaxiDubrovnik).

FOR YACHTSMEN

You will undoubtedly be mesmerized by the beauty of the islands, the coast and the sea in the area of Dubrovnik.

This is where lovers of this kind of tourism and passionate yachtsmen, whether just cruising and exploring, or participating in one of the numerous regattas which take place in the waters of Dubrovnik the whole year round – will find a perfect holiday and entertainment. After a pleasant but strenuous sailing trip, a berth in a marina with all the desired facilities can be very convenient, whether you merely need to restock with water, fuel and food for the continuation of your trip, or you are in need of some service.

The Dubrovnik ACI Marina in Rijeka Dubrovačka (Komolac) is open the whole year. It is about 2 kilometres away from the entrance to Gruž Harbour and only 6 kilometres from the Old City. It has 380 wet and 140 dry berths. The Marina has excellent local bus connections with the City centre.

Where to dine

Go to the market place – the very stomach of the City - smell, touch and taste the food that local people consume every day; simple, organic, and seasoned with olive oil... Dubrovnik delicacies are simple and usually prepared with only few spices that do not harm the natural taste of the food.

Even the most reputable chefs who visit the local farmer's markets cannot resist the taste and smell of local products from the City's surroundings - Župa Dubrovačka, Konavle, Primorje...

The area abounds in fruits of earth and sun, you can choose among the many kinds of delicious vegetables, including artichokes, aubergines, asparagus, broad beans, courgettes, courgette flowers, different varieties of cabbage, different fruits like pomegranates, melons, figs, plums and an endemic sort of grapes called 'krivaja'.

Those visiting local taverns wish to taste authentic national food, good smoked ham, cheese kept in oil, octopus salad, zelena menestra (smoked salted meat and cabbage stew), sporchi macaroni (with veal chunks and spices stewed over a long time), fried sprats and grilled sardines. Fine dining restaurants and young creative chefs serve the freshest seafood from the depths of the Adriatic, the world-famous oysters from Mali Ston, and meat specialities alike. The Dubrovnik gastronomic scene has been changing as young chefs with European experience have been bringing new interpretations of classical food; there are Fusion cuisine restaurants, international restaurants such as Korean, Bosnian, Italian, Indian, Japanese, Mexican, Thai... offering more options not only in the Old City but in other city neighbourhoods.

Dubrovnik's best gastronomic experience is to dine "al fresco" on the beautiful terraces, romantic squares and alleys, listening to some good live music and tasting some exquisite Croatian wines. Wine bars are very popular with wine-lovers but also with those who want to taste extraordinary Croatian red and white wines accompanied with Croatian style tapas.

The best-known wines of the Dubrovnik region include red wines of the Pelješac Peninsula, the famous Plavac Mali variety, equally the white wines - Pošip from the Island of Korčula, the Malvasia known in history as "the nectar of gods", and other sorts from the Konavle area with the characteristic flavour of the south.

Our website (www.tzdubrovnik.hr) offers information on gastronomic events throughout the year. The Dubrovnik Good Food Festival (end of October) is the highlight among the many.

What to see

There is much of great historical, architectural and cultural relevance to be seen within the City Walls and nowhere is more than a few minutes stroll away. However culturally serious your intentions may be, every stroll down The Stradun or through the maze of back streets will take you past the perhaps welcome temptation of an ice-cream or a cup of coffee!

CITY WALLS AND FORTRESSES

The Dubrovnik City Walls are the major attraction for any visitor, being one of the best preserved fortification systems in Europe. The 1940-metre long walls include five fortresses and sixteen towers and bastions. The Walls are open for visitors all year round. There are three entrances to the Walls: one next to St. Luke's Church in the east (opposite of the Dominican Church), one next to St. Saviour's Church opposite the Big Onofrio Fountain, and one next to the Maritime Museum at St John's Fortress.

A walk along the Walls shows some of the most impressive construction undertakes. There are five fortresses, of which Minčeta, Bokar and St. John's make integral parts of the Walls, and the other two - St Lawrence's in the west and The Revelin in the east, stand separately outside the integrated defence system. Located at the highest point of the City, Fortress Minčeta served to protect Dubrovnik from the north. The Fortress is the symbol of Dubrovnik's defence, the Croatian flag flies on its top at all times, and in the summer the Libertas flag, the symbol of the Dubrovnik Summer Festival is added. In the southwest, Fortress Bokar, also called Zvezdan, stands at the corner of the City Walls facing St. Lawrence's Fortress across the bay. It was constructed in the 16th century to protect the small City harbour, the moat around the Walls, and the Pile Bridge. Today it houses a collection of stone fragments from the Dubrovnik area. Built in 1346, St John's Fortress is the first quadrangular pier tower for the protection of the City harbour from the southeast. A chain across the entrance to the harbour to prevent any unwanted visitors at night was controlled by a winch from the Fortress. An Aquarium is located in the Fortress's ground floor, while the first and the second floors house the Maritime Museum. At the foot of St John's Fortress there is a pier with a beacon – the well-known Porporela, a traditional meeting place for romance, a promenade and a swimming spot popular especially with the residents of the Old City. From Porporela one can see Fortress Revelin standing at the eastern entrance outside the City Walls. The stone and wood drawbridge connects the imposing Fortress with the land, and another stone bridge connects it with the City. Surrounded by a moat on three sides and by the sea on the fourth, the Fortress was a part of the City which was effectively impregnable. Although constructed in an earlier period, The Revelin acquired its present day dimensions and shape in the 16th century. The interior of the Fortress and its terraces serve as concert venues for the Dubrovnik Symphony Orchestra and the Dubrovnik Summer Festival. The Culture Club Revelin is a world wide popular place to spend a night to good club music.

ST LAWRENCE'S FORTRESS (LOVRJENAC)

St Lawrence's Fortress is situated on a 37 metre-high rock to the west of the Old City. The symbol of Dubrovnik's survival and freedom, the Fortress defended the City from the sea and covered the western Pile Gate. Above the entrance to the Fortress is the famed inscription: NON BENE PRO TOTO LIBERTAS VENDITUR AURO (Freedom is not to be sold for all the world's gold).

The first official records mention the Fortress in 1301, although it is believed that its construction began much earlier. Today St Lawrence's is well known as one of Dubrovnik Summer Festival's main open-air stages, particularly known to be the most suitable stage for Shakespeare's Hamlet in the world. Some of the finest actors have appeared on its terraces in the role of the unfortunate prince of Denmark, among them Rade Šerbedžija, Daniel Day Lewis, Derek Jacobi and Goran Višnjić.

STRADUN (BIG AND SMALL ONOFRIO FOUNTAINS, ORLANDO, CITY BELL-TOWER AND GREEN MEN, THE RECTOR'S PALACE, SPONZA)

Over centuries, the Walls had two entrance points (Ploce Gate in the east and the Pile Gate in the west; the third access point in the north was drilled in in the 19th century. The draw bridges were pulled up at night to prevent passage for uninvited visitors. Every gate leads to the principal street called Placa or Stradun. The main open-air public space of Dubrovnik, the favourite promenade and a meeting place, the venue of all great festivities and processions, Stradun is the main shopping area and the widest and the most beautiful street which divides the Old City into its northern and southern parts. Its origins go back to the 12th century, when a shallow sea channel that separated the settlements on the peninsula of Lave and on the mainland was filled in.

Big Onofrio Fountain

Small Onofrio Fountain

Placa, generally better known as 'Stradun', acquired its proper function in the late 12th century when both settlements merged into one urban unit by the first segments of the Walls. The name Placa comes from the Latin term "platea communis", an open public space. Its so popular nickname 'Stradun' is of Venetian origin and means a huge street. The Big Onofrio Fountain stands at the western end of Stradun. It was named after its author Onofrio della Cava, also the architect and designer of the 11.7 kilometre long Dubrovnik water supply system completed in 1438. The other 'Small' fountain, also designed by Onofrio, was constructed close to the city Bell Tower, at the opposite end of Stradun. It has never stopped feeling good to refresh oneself with cool water from both fountains, while the clock-tower strikes the hours above the heated stone slates during the hot summer days.

City Bell-Tower

Rector's Palace

The 31-metre high Bell Tower was built in 1444. In 1509, the famous foundryman Michele di Giovanni from Fiesolo cast the big bell and the two bronze soldiers, nick named Baro and Maro, also known as The Dubrovnik Green Men. Their duty is to denote the time, so they strike the bell on the hour, repeat after three minutes, and then also strike only one time on the half-hour. Between the Bell Tower and The Sponza Palace is Luža, an open belfry from which the official bells of the government announced its sessions and emitted alarms in case of dangers. Luža was built in 1463 and was extensively reconstructed in 1952. The monumental Sponza Palace stands on its left; built in the Gothic-Renaissance style, it has preserved its original form till the present day. At the time of the Dubrovnik Republic it housed storehouses and customs offices and was therefore also called Divona (from the word dogana = customs). Designed by the Dubrovnik master Paskoje Miličević, it also housed the state mint, the exchequer and treasury.

Today the Palace is the home of the Dubrovnik State Archives. Documents spanning the period from the 12th century to the fall of the Dubrovnik Republic make this institution one of the most significant archives in the world. Particularly valuable is the collection of statutory and law books, including the original Dubrovnik Statute from 1272. Its immense holdings of documents from the times of the Ottoman Empire present one of the most precious historical sources.

The Orlando Column carries a statue of the medieval knight with a sword in his hand. With a characteristic Gothic smile on his face framed with long curls, he is considered one of Europe's handsomest statues of the hero of the Crusades. According to the contract of 1418, the column was designed by Master Bonino of Milan and was sculpted and mounted with the help of local masters. The Orlando Column is a symbol of statehood and independence. On its top, where once the flag of the Dubrovnik Republic flew, in these times three flags fly: the Croatian national flag, the flag of St. Blaise during the festivities, and of the Dubrovnik Summer Festival over its forty five days of duration.

CHURCHES AND MONASTERIES

(ST. BLAISE, FRANCISCAN MONASTERY, CATHEDRAL, ST. SAVIOUR, DOMINICAN MONASTERY)

Church of St Blaise

Franciscan Monastery

Church of St Saviour

The Baroque church dedicated to the Dubrovnik patron Saint Blaise, faces the Orlando Column. It was built in 1715, after the design of the Venetian master Marino Gropelli, on the site of an earlier church in Romanesque idiom dedicated to the same saint. A valuable 15th century Gothic statue of St. Blaise is on the main church altar, the work of Dubrovnik goldsmiths school. It also has another historical value: the model of the City the Saint holds in his left hand shows us how the City looked like before the fatal earthquake in 1667.

The small votive Church of St. Saviour is situated at the western end of The Stradun, right opposite the Big Onofrio Fountain. It was built in 1520 after a decree by the Senate, in gratitude to the Saviour for having saved the City from a total destruction by an earthquake. A testimony to this is a monumental plaque on the church facade. Constructed by master Petar Andrijić of Korčula, the Church remained intact during the disastrous earthquake in 1667. Preserved in its original form, it is a fine example of Dubrovnik Renaissance architecture. The interior of the Church is nowadays used for concerts and exhibitions.

Historic records of the Old Pharmacy, founded within the Franciscan Monastery in 1317, are very scarce. Initially it was a monastery pharmacy for the friars, in accordance with the provisions of their order. In the course of time, firstly for humanitarian and charitable reasons, the pharmacy expanded and opened to public service. It has operated ever since 1317, which makes it one of the oldest pharmacies in the world. Its products include preparations made after old recipes, very popular with tourists as well. The pharmacy is located in the cloister of the Baroque church. The capitals of the arcade are adorned with examples of Romanesque bestiary. The church includes a picturesque hall in Renaissance style, music archives, a rich library and silver and gold artefacts and objects.

The Dubrovnik Cathedral of the Assumption of the Virgin Mary has existed in its present day form since the early 18th century. According to historic records, a former Romanesque cathedral was an outstandingly luxurious church with a cupola richly decorated with statues. Legend has it that it was built with the votive money the English king Richard the Lionheart donated for having survived a shipwreck near Island Lokrum on his way back from the Third (King's) Crusade in 1192. The restoration works on the Cathedral in 1981 uncovered the remains of another earlier cathedral or basilica, the architectural features of which place its origins somewhere in the 5th or 6th century. This discovery changed the prospective on to the early history of Dubrovnik, bearing evidence of the City being a developed urban community as early as in the 6th century. The Cathedral now houses a rich treasury including paintings and relics, with Titian's polyptych of the Assumption of the Virgin Mary from 1552.

The Church of St. Dominic is one of the largest religious buildings in Gothic style on the Croatian coast. Of a simple architectural design, it has only one nave with a Gothic apse, separated from the remaining area of the church by three high openings with Gothic vaults. In the central vault above the main altar is a huge highly valued Crucifix by Paolo Veneziano from 1314. The Dominican Monastery's paintings include works by the 15th and 16th century masters of the Dubrovnik Painting School (Božidarević, Hamzić and Dobričević) and a canvas by the great Titian portraying the Dubrovnik patron St. Blaise, St. Mary Magdalene, Archangel Raphael and Tobias. Its Museum displays valuable documents, incunabula, manuscripts, a Bible from the 11th century and a jewellery collection of Dubrovnik goldsmiths.

SQUARES (DRŽIĆ, GUNDULIĆ AND BOŠKOVIĆ SQUARES)

A walk along the City streets and The Stradun will certainly take you to some of the numerous Dubrovnik squares. Situated in front of the Cathedral, the Marin Držić Square leads to the quarter of Karmen, to the City harbour and to the Aquarium. Residents usually refer to it as 'in front of Our Lady's'. The buildings surrounding the square are the Dubrovnik Cathedral, the Sorkočević Palace, the little Church of St. Bartholomew, the Dulčić-Masle-Pulitika Art Gallery and the Memorial Room of Ronald Brown, the United States Secretary of Commerce who died in a plane crash on St. John's Hill (above Dubrovnik Airport) on 3rd of April, 1996. None of the members of a peace mission he was leading survived. The Square was named after Marin Držić (Dubrovnik, 1508 – Venice, 1567), playwright, poet and church organist – also with a reputation of a conspirator. He studied in Dubrovnik and in Italy and in 1541 was appointed Vice-Chancellor of the Siena University. While in Florence in 1566, he addressed Cosimo Medici for help to overthrow the Dubrovnik Republic regime. His idea was to replace it with a system that would allow common people to take part in public decisions, otherwise an exclusive privilege of nobility. In his works he wrote about many universal human themes, including love, nostalgia for youth, greed, foxiness, miserliness etc. His plays vibrate with vitality of life. His best-known works are Tirenja, Grižula, Venus and Adonis, The Story of Stanac, The Miser and Hecuba. Uncle Maroje, his masterpiece comedy, conjures up a vision of a society of equals with no essential difference between good and bad people, and about what money can do to anything, including love.

Gundulić Square

Baroque steps

Bošković Square

A statue of the Dubrovnik poet Ivan Gundulić (Dubrovnik 1589 - 1638) stands in the Gundulić Square. Educated in his native City, Ivan Gundulić was twice appointed Rector of Konavle, a senator, a Minor Council member and an envoy to a Bosnian Pasha. The major representative of Baroque style in Dubrovnik, his works exude the spirit of Catholic Reformation. His main motifs include reflections on the precariousness of human life. Among Gundulić's best-known works are Tears of the Prodigal Son (Venice, 1622), Dubravka (premiered on stage in Dubrovnik in 1628) and Osman (reprinted as late as 1826). He was buried in the Franciscan Church, whose library cherishes the oldest copies of Osman from 1652, and a copy from 1826 printed in Dubrovnik. The small Amerling Fountain, severely damaged during the war in 1991, was constructed after the disastrous earthquake in 1667. The square is the site of the green market, where farmers from nearby villages to sell their products every morning. A Baroque staircase leads from the southern part of the Square to the Ruđer Bošković Square above. The staircase was designed by the Roman architect Pietro Passalacqua in 1738, and is reminiscent of the famous Spanish Steps leading to the Trinità dei Monti Church in Rome. The buildings in this Square feature the Jesuit Church of St. Ignatius and the Collegium Ragusinum, the famous Dubrovnik Jesuit School. Many consider this urban complex to be the finest Baroque set of buildings in all of Dalmatia. The Church was completed in 1725, after the design of the famous Jesuit architect Ignazio Pozzo. Its interiors are decorated with trompe l'oeil Baroque frescos by painter Gaetano Garcia, portraying scenes from the life of St. Ignatius, the founder of the Jesuit order. Adjacent to the church facade stands the building of the Jesuit Collegium. Its neutral and hard lines accentuate the Baroque facade of the Church and the Baroque steps that descend to the Gundulić Square below.

TRSTENO

The name of this village situated some twenty kilometres west of Dubrovnik comes from the Croatian word for cane (trstika) which grows thanks to an abundance of fresh water in the area. Two giant more than 400 years old oriental sycamore trees (Platanus Orientalis) grow in a little square right by the main road and are considered the largest trees of their kind in Europe. The greatest attraction in the village is the magnificent Trsteno Arboretum, the only one on the Croatian Adriatic coast. Renowned for its historic gardens and an immense collection of Mediterranean and exotic plants, the Arboretum was founded in 1948 in the area of the once summer residence of Dubrovnik's aristocratic Gučetić-Gozze family. The entire Arboretum is a protected monument of garden architecture. Spreading over 25 hectares, the Arboretum comprises different units: a historic Renaissance garden with a summer residence, a historic neo-Romantic garden from the 19th/20th century, a historic olive grove and areas with natural vegetation of the woods of the Downy oak, Alpine pine trees and cypresses, as well as the vegetation of macchia and the coastal rocks. Ivan Marinov Gučetić-Gozze built a summer residence with a garden on his Trsteno estate in 1494, in the Renaissance times. The estate soon became one of the humanistic and cultural centres of Dubrovnik and the area. In this Arcadian idyll, numerous Dubrovnik and foreign poets, humanists, philosophers and others gathered to write their poetry and to have long discussions about important issues of human nature. Among them was poet Cvijeta Zuzorić, internationally reputed as one of the most beautiful women, and not only of the Croatian Renaissance. The garden fountain, one of Arboretum's major attractions, is supplied with water from a 70-metre long aqueduct conducted over fourteen stone arches. In 1736 the former Renaissance fountain was turned into a luxuriant Baroque nymphaeum with Neptune, the god of seas and waters, as the central figure in a group of stone statues.

THE ELAFITE ISLANDS

The Elaphites make a group of 13 islands in the north-west of Dubrovnik. The three main islands, Koločep, Lopud and Šipan, have been inhabited since ancient times, as is evident by the remains of Illyrian buildings and some place names having been derived from Greek and Roman. The islands were part of the Dubrovnik Republic; from the 11th century to its fall. The first rector of the islands was appointed in 1272. Life on the islands flourished, and with a population much larger than that of today, during the golden age of Dubrovnik in the 15th and 16th century.

Regular boat and ferry services from the Port of Gruž make it possible to visit one or more islands in a day trip.

Among many attractions, alongside a relaxing calm and beautiful scenery, are the old Croatian churches on the Island of Koločep, the exceptional sandy beach of Šunj on the Island of Lopud, the summer residence of the Skočibuha-Stjepović family in Suđurađ on Šipan, and the 5 km walk (or bus ride) along the fertile valley that connects Suđurađ to the village of Luka Šipanska, where one can see the Rector's

Palace and the Church of St. Stephen. There is a choice of small restaurants offering the best of fresh seafood and vegetables, fruit, cheese, olive oil and wine grown and produced locally.

A rather untypical attraction on Lopud, just a short walk from the village away, is the art installation 'Your Black Horizon', a joint work of the Danish-Icelandic artist Olafur Eliasson and London architect David Adjaye.

SRDJ MOUNTAIN – PANORAMA AND MUSEUM by CABLE CAR

The 415-metre high Mount Srdj rises above Dubrovnik, offering a wonderful view of the Old City and the adjacent islands, can be reached either by taxi, the cable car which starts from just above the town – or even on foot! At its top there is a café and restaurant and the Napoleonic Fortress Imperial houses a museum dedicated to the memories of the 1991-1995 Homeland War. The stone cross on the summit, made from the famous stone from the Dalmatian Island of Brač, was donated by the Brač-Hvar Archdiocese after the war as replacement for an earlier cross of the same provenance that was destroyed in the 90's War.

The cable car, initially installed in 1969, was totally demolished in the war and was completely restored in 2010. It runs every half hour from its base station, a few minutes walk above the Old City – either from the Ploče Gate or through the small gate at the top of the steps of Boškoviće Street (fourth from the Bell tower). The last ride down from the hill in high season is at midnight, and somewhat earlier in other parts of the year. Tickets can be obtained at the base station, or from a number of agents and kiosks in town.

THE LAZARETS

Dubrovnik was a crossroads of maritime and caravan trade routes for centuries and was one of the first places in Europe to recognise the value of a quarantine protection system against the threats of disease brought in by travellers. The isolation lasted for 40 days (hence the name). The first quarantine was built on the islets of Mrkan and Bobara opposite Cavtat; some time later a quarantine was started on Island Lokrum but was soon abandoned for practical reasons. A set of houses with courtyards within a solid wall was started in 1590 (completed in 1642) on the rocks close to the eastern city gate. It is known as the Lazarets (or lazarettos). Visiting merchants and seamen were confined in a well organized premise with its own water supply and staff including a priest, a physician, a barber-surgeon and a sufficient number of attendants. Strict quarantine regulations were rigorously observed.

The Lazarets have been well preserved and restored. Some of its buildings are now venues for various art and crafts workshops. It also houses a stage for performances by the Lindo Folklore Ensemble, a students' theatre and various young artists' associations.

OLD CITY HARBOUR

Paskoje Miličević (born around 1440) was a local architect who showed his talent as a very young man and was appointed municipal engineer when he was only 26. Practically, Miličević is the author of the Old Harbour as we see it today. The Kaše breakwater constructed across the mouth of the harbour provides protection both from wind and sea and from enemy attack. A chain was stretched at night across the mouth of the harbour by a winch from St. John's Fortress to prevent unwelcome vessels and intruders. Miličević also worked on the new Od Ponte Gate after a design by Giorgio da Sebenico. He completed his works in the harbour in the early 16th century. The Peskarija (fish market) and the Porporela breakwater were built in the 19th century during Austrian rule. There were also two arsenals i.e. shipyards that constructed and repaired the famous Dubrovnik ships in dry dock at what today is the Arsenal Restaurant.

The exhibits on the second floor show the resurgence of maritime trade in Dubrovnik and on the Pelješac Peninsula during the 19th century, as well as the fleet of Dubrovnik steamships up until World War II and later.

The Ethnographic Museum

The Ethnographic Museum is located in the 16th century granary. State reserves of wheat, barley and millet were stored in deep silos called 'rupe' (holes) carved out in live rock and coated with a water-proof material that kept the grain at a constant temperature of 17°C.

The reserves could supply the City for six months, high security in case of a long siege. Exhibits relating to the traditional rural economy and architecture of the region are displayed on the first floor. Samples of folk costumes and textile handiwork can be seen on the second floor.

Archaeological Museum exhibition - Fortress Revelin

The exhibition 'Dubrovnik Archaeological Museum's Early Medieval Sculpture' features the most representative parts of stone church furniture, altar balustrades, pulpits, ciboria, choir stalls and fragments of stone architecture – columns, capitals, portals, window frames and imposts in Pre-Romanesque and Early-Romanesque idiom.

The exhibition 'Revelin, Archaeological Research / Architectural Development / Foundry' presents the course of construction of two earlier fortresses on the same location.

Dubrovnik Natural Science Museum

www.pmd.hr

The beginnings of natural science in Dubrovnik go back to the foundation of the Museo Patrio in 1872. In addition to the Chamber of Trade and Crafts Collection, the museum is based on the private natural science collection of Antun Drobac, a pharmacist and ship-owner.

Museum of the Franciscan Monastery

A museum with the inventory from the old pharmacy of Friars Minor from 1317 is located in the cloister of the Franciscan Monastery. Well-preserved furniture in the pharmacy and the ceramic objects came from Italy, France and Holland in the 15th and 16th centuries. It also contains various presses, mortars, an instrument for distilling water from the 14th century, prescription manuscripts on medicine with precise measurements, etc. The Museum shows rare specimens of manuscripts and church music, valuable paintings by unknown masters, a skull relic of St. Ursula from 14th century and a collection of votive jewellery.

The Cathedral and The Treasury

The Baroque Cathedral dedicated to the Assumption of the Virgin Mary was built in the 18th century, on the foundations of a Romanesque Cathedral from the 12th ct. destroyed in the great earthquake of 1667. The construction of the Romanesque Cathedral is linked to the legend of King Richard the Lionheart (see more under: Island Lokrum). The crypt located underneath the Baroque Cathedral can be visited by special request. The Treasury inside the Cathedral houses 182 relics of saints dating from the 12th to the 19th centuries. Fragments of bones of several saints and martyrs are contained in forms finely crafted by local goldsmiths, decorated with precious metals and stones, the most significant being the relic of St Blaise.

Museum of the Dominican Monastery

The Dominican Museum is located in the cloister of the Monastery. Among many exhibits, it displays some of the most important works of the Dubrovnik Painting School (15th and 16th centuries) including its most prominent representatives Bozidarević, Hamzić and Dobričević. There are also collections of votive jewellery, relics, manuscripts, incunabula, valuable documents, letters from different Popes, Byzantine icons of the Virgin and Infant and the recently restored Titian's painting depicting St. Blaise, Mary Magdalene, the Archangel Raphael and Tobias. A large crucifix by Paolo Veneziano from the 14th century dominates the interiors of the Dominican Church from above its main altar.

The Synagogue

Synagogue, Jewish Museum

Republic of Dubrovnik allowed Jewish population on its territory in 1546 and soon a first Jewish settlement was established in Žudioska Street in the Old City. In 1652 an already existing palace was adapted into a synagogue. The interior was decorated in Baroque style. With some minor modifications, the building has been preserved until this very day and it is the second oldest Sephardic synagogue in Europe. A museum with a number of religious artefacts, archival documents and Torah dating from the 13th to the 17th ct. testifies of the 500 years of the Jewish community in Dubrovnik. The community also has its own cemetery and a small Jewish fountain on the platform close to the western city gate.

Museum of the Sigurata Convent

The museum is accessible from Celestina Medovića Street. It houses a collection of paintings spanning from 16th to 19th century, liturgical items, a 14th century procession cross, two 18th century looms, lacework and embroidery. Most of the exhibits are either votive gifts or products of the convent.

Memorial Room of Dubrovnik Defenders

Croatian War of Independence Museum – Dubrovnik / Fortress Imperial, Srđ Mountain

The Croatian War of Independence Museum – Dubrovnik, still in its formative stages, is located in one wing of Fortress Imperial on Mount Srđ, the symbol of defence of the City that suffered atrocious attacks between 1991 and 1995. Exhibitions shows documents, art and documentary photographs, printed materials, weapons, exhibit landmines and explosive devices, war maps, commands, military equipment, objects from everyday life of residents and defenders of Dubrovnik under the siege, authentic recordings and video material, reminiscences of the participants, military flags, the original flag which flew on Srđ in 1991, minefield maps, war log books, etc. A memorial plaque with the names of those who died defending Dubrovnik is posted in the vicinity of the Fortress.

Ronald Brown Memorial House

www.ugdubrovnik.hr

US Secretary of Commerce Ronald Brown was leading a peace mission when their plane crashed in the hills of Konavle on 3rd of April 1996. There were no survivors. The Memorial House was opened on the first anniversary of the tragedy. It is located in the building also housing an arts gallery dedicated to three most prominent Dubrovnik painters of the 20th ct. - Antun Masle, Ivo Dulčić and Đuro Pulić.

Dubrovnik State Archives

The documents from the 12th century to the fall of the Dubrovnik Republic make this institution one of the most significant archives in the world. Particularly valuable is the collection of statutory and law books, including the original Dubrovnik Statute from 1272. Its collection of documents from the times of the Ottoman Empire is one of world's richest sources for academic research of the period.

ISLAND LOKRUM

The first known mention of the Island Lokrum comes from 1023 AD, in a document certifying the foundation of a Benedictine Abbey and a Monastery. Then a legend has it that in 1192, after a shipwreck in the vicinity of Lokrum on his way back from the Third Crusade in Palestine, Richard the Lionheart found shelter on the Island; as a sign of gratitude, he made a vow to build a church in the place where he came ashore. However, upon a request by the people of Dubrovnik, he allocated the money to the continuation of the Cathedral in town. Maximilian von Habsburg visited and bought the island in 1859. He had his summer residence built on the ruins of the monastery, with a magnificent garden, walking paths and promenades. The tradition of gardening and cultivation of exotic plants from the time of the Benedictines via Maximilian von Habsburg continued in 1959, when the Botanical Garden was founded. On almost two hectares of land, one can see 70 different species of eucalyptus, the largest collection of eucalyptus outside Australia, and more than 853 exotic species of plants. Around 453 are trees and bushes and about 400 are succulents. In 1964, Lokrum was declared a Protected Natural Reserve, and in 1976 it was proclaimed a Special Forest Vegetation Reserve under the protection of UNESCO. Out of its total of 0.7 km<sup>2</sup> of area, 0.6 km<sup>2</sup> is covered with dense vegetation. Lokrum provides perfect ecological conditions to diverse fauna, on land and in the sea. It is home to 156 bird species from 43 different bird families. However, the pride of Lokrum have been the peacocks, brought by Maximilian of Habsburg from the Canary Islands 150 years ago.

From its highest peak, the star-shaped Royal Fortress built by the French in 1806, offers a magnificent view of Dubrovnik, Cavtat and the islands.

GETTING THERE

You can get to Lokrum by a lovely 10-minute boat ride with the “Skala” or “Zrinski” boats, which depart every half hour from the Old City Harbour. Tickets can be purchased at the pier, just before boarding. The first boat departs at 9 a.m. and the last shuttle leaves Lokrum at 7 or 8 p.m. (depending on the season). It is forbidden to stay on the island overnight. Boat transportation is available from April through October.

LAKES AND BEACHES

A small lake on the island called Mrtvo More (Dead Sea), connected with the open sea underground, is suitable for children and non-swimmers. There are also plenty of beaches for every visitor to have a swim. Signs supply very clear orientation on your whereabouts all over the island. Beaches are equipped with fresh-water showers.

FOR THE BRAVE

Another natural attraction of this islet is the Purple Cave, which gets its name from the purple seaweed that covers the rocks. This place is generally little known as it can be reached by boat or by the path that leads to the nudist beach.

Back in 2011, after a short and productive dialogue with local authorities, the global television network HBO decided to choose Dubrovnik as location for the awarded TV series Game of Thrones. While Dubrovnik was King’s Landing, Island Lokrum turned into the City of Qarth near the Jade Sea, visited by Daenerys Targaryen in Season II. Some of the scenes were filmed in the Botanical Garden and within the remnants of the Benedictine Monastery.

VISITORS CENTRE

The Visitors Centre, with an exhibition dedicated entirely to The Game of Thrones, was opened to public in 2015. It includes video footage of how the series was filmed in Dubrovnik and elsewhere in Croatia, and a map of filming locations.

RIJEKA DUBROVAČKA

The mouth of the River Ombla lies at the western entrance to Dubrovnik, right under the Dubrovnik Bridge. Upstream, around its source, several villages are arrayed in a semicircle. This fjord-like bay is famous for several 15th and 16th century Renaissance summer residences of Dubrovnik nobility. One of the most prominent and best preserved villas is the Sorkočević family summer residence with a beautiful garden and staircases, located at the edge of ACI Marina Dubrovnik. The Marina offers wet and dry berths all year round.

Rijeka Dubrovačka, the shore of The Ombla, abounds with bird species, resident or migrating. While enjoying your coffee by the ACI Marina Dubrovnik pool, you will probably see ducks or gorgeous swans gliding along the green surface of the river. The entire area of Rijeka Dubrovačka has excellent regular bus connections with all parts of Dubrovnik.

Excursions

ISLAND of MLJET

Legend has it that Odysseus was lured to Mljet by the nymph Calypso, so why should you resist? You can even visit Odysseus' Cave on the south side of the island. If lucky, you can spot a Mediterranean monk seal!

The island boasts a rich history and archaeological and cultural sites. The Mljet National Park is situated in the western part of this 'green' island. Takes a one-hour boat trip departing from Gruž harbour or on a car ferry from Prapratno near Ston, on Pelješac Peninsula. The main port of call on the island is Sobra, and during the tourist season a fast catamaran also operates from Gruž to Polače, from where one can reach the National Park by a mini-bus. One can rent a bicycle or a small car, but vehicles are not allowed into the National Park. You will be fascinated by the untouched nature and by the beauty of the Great and Small Lakes, connected with the open sea by a short strait. Accessible by a regular small boat shuttle, in the middle of the Great Lake stands the Isle of St. Mary with a 12th century Benedictine Monastery. It is also possible to follow the path that runs around the edge of the lakes in the shade of ancient pine forests that reach the very rim of the shore.

Close to the National Park is the picturesque little harbour of Pomena with the only hotel on the island.

STON and the PELJEŠAC PENINSULA

About an hour's drive west of Dubrovnik is the attractive small township of Ston. A 5 km wall connects the town to Mali Ston. It was built in the 14th century as a defensive wall and an effective barrier for the entire rest of the Peninsula. Claims that it is second only to the Great Wall of China should perhaps be taken with a pinch of salt, which is conveniently provided by the Ston salt works and their extensive pans. Salt has been produced here for the past 2000 years – and is continuing. The salt from Ston was one of the key resources for the economic success of the Dubrovnik Republic.

The Bay of Mali Ston is famous for the quality and a unique taste of the oysters produced by the many farms in the Bay.

Pelješac Peninsula, world famous for its wines, continues for 70 km. On its other end is Orebić, but on the way to it there are ample opportunities for wine tasting stopovers along the way. A short ferry ride takes you to the island of Korčula, reputedly the city of Marco Polo, and well worth a visit. One day bus excursions from Dubrovnik to Korčula are offered by diverse tourist agents.

CAVTAT

Some 18 kms east of Dubrovnik is the township of Cavtat, easily reached by a regular city bus or by frequent boat services from the Old Harbour. Its history goes back a long way, as it was first settled by the Greeks and later by the Romans. It was sacked by Slav tribes in the 7th century and the residents moved to the small settlement of Laus, from which Dubrovnik developed.

Today it is worth a visit for its attractive waterfront promenade with many coffee bars and restaurants. You can wander through its winding streets or walk by the water all the way around the peninsula. Other attractions include the Gallery of Vlaho Bukovac and the Račić Family Mausoleum designed by Ivan Meštrović, a pleasant stroll up the wooded hill beyond the town away.

KONAVLE

Beyond Cavtat and the Airport lies the region of Konavle, where rich soil and water sources from the mountains create a fertile valley where most of the local fruit and vegetables are produced. The area is dotted with small villages, situated always on the hillside so as not to waste the fertile land. There is a tradition of silk production, maintained to this day and demonstrated in several local estates. There are several typical restaurants, such as the well-known Konavoski Dvori, offering fresh water trout and lamb baked 'under the bell'. There are opportunities for cycling, horseback riding or for explorations by jeep or ATV vehicle.

THE BAY OF KOTOR (Montenegro), MEĐUGORJE and MOSTAR (Bosnia and Herzegovina) are all within a day's outing from Dubrovnik. Coach excursions are offered by a number of tourist agents.

CABRIO BUS

The Cabrio or Panoramic Bus offers an opportunity for a panoramic tour of Dubrovnik. The Dubrovnik City Tour is designed for visitors who wish to enjoy sight-seeing of Dubrovnik, highlighting the memorable views over the Old City in the east and the Dubrovnik Bridge in the west. The tour includes an audio guide in nine languages. The paintings on the bus are reminiscent of the old Dubrovnik tram, the one-time favourite means of transportation in Dubrovnik. Tickets for the Cabrio Bus is also valid for all local buses for that day.

The bus may not operate in the case of bad weather.

Where to have fun

Discover the street players, Dalmatian vocal groups, chamber music ensembles in churches, in the squares or under the arches of the Sponza Palace. The enchanting ambience of Rector's Palace is a favourite concert stage of the world's greatest musicians, and the city squares turn into theatre venues for first-class concerts or theatre performances during the Dubrovnik Summer Festival (July 10th to August 25th).

Discover the painters' rapture in the city galleries and the entertaining "Stars Under the Stars" programmes on the terraces and beaches of Dubrovnik's hotels, and enjoy cocktails and street jazz sessions in the hot summer nights until daybreak.

A very famous and relaxing spot for cocktails overlooking the sea are the two Buža bars, both on the cliffs tight outside of the City Walls.

Having drinks on the stairs next to the small bars in the streets and squares will make you feel like a local.

The wandering lights, excellent dance music and enchanting rhythms wait for you in the charming discotheques and night clubs. You can enjoy club music in Culture Club Revelin, a very popular and unique venue located in an old fortress. The Banje Beach Club is situated just outside of the Old City and offers beautiful scenery and house music. There is also the Sky night club on Pile, mostly visited by a younger clientele.

Where to attend mass

If you stay in Dubrovnik for several days, you might like to attend a mass enjoying the atmosphere in some of the many old churches. The cool interior of the churches will feel good after an exhausting walk in the hot streets. You might light a candle made of genuine yellow wax and perhaps be lucky enough to enter St. Blaise's Church when somebody is playing the church organ, while the sun's rays shine through the stained-glass windows, illuminating the interior of the church with many colours.

Holy masses in the morning and in the evening are held in almost all churches in Dubrovnik on a daily basis. On Sundays, you may attend holy masses on the hour from 7.00 am to 12.00 noon, and in the afternoon, at some of the Old City churches. If you lose track of time while exploring cultural and historic sites, you will hear the sonorous sound of the bells from church-towers summoning the faithful to a prayer. In the summer, masses are held earlier in the morning and later in the evening than in the winter period. Holy masses in English are held at the Jesuit Church on Sundays at 11:00 am (from the first Sunday in June to the last Sunday in September).

Schedule of the masses check on web site <http://www.dubrovacka-biskupija.hr/portal/>

Where to shop

Dubrovnik outlets offering authentic Croatian souvenirs and traditional Dubrovnik souvenirs are marked with this symbol . It is difficult to resist a beautiful memento of a travel or holiday.

Discover Dubrovnik through its typical souvenirs, like caramelised almonds, arancini (candied orange peel rinds), kontonjata (quince cheese), brandies with stories to tell, top quality red and white wines, valuable stone-mason's handicraft, golden coloured olive oil, and cold-pressed soaps with laurel and rosemary fragrance. Souvenirs made by traditional craftsmen who are encouraged and subsidised by the City, such as goldsmiths, filigree-makers, carnival mask makers and leather-workers.

Those who look for elegant and selected designer clothing, ultramodern glasses, Swarovski crystal and hand-made jewellery should visit the modern boutiques that can be found both in the Old City and in the shopping centres situated in the Gruž and Lapad districts of Dubrovnik (Mercante, Minčeta, DOC shopping centres and SUB CITY in Župa Dubrovačka).

Souvenirs

1. The goldsmith's trade in Dubrovnik is one of the oldest, and certainly the best-known trade. The beginnings of the goldsmith's trade go back to the 12th century, it particularly flourished in the 14th and 15th centuries. With their adroit hands the Dubrovnik goldsmiths made the favourite adornments for the local ladies with special care, skill and artistry. The rečini (earrings) or puce (decorative buttons) will definitively be lifelong souvenirs. Gold, filigree silver and coral jewellery is fascinating for its timeless beauty and workmanship, and their designs match all fashion styles. The workshops in the Old City still manufacture the traditional Dubrovnik jewellery using age-old methods.

2. Returning home from a visit or holiday, take Dubrovnik delicacies such as kontonjata (quince cheese), mantala (must cheese), arancini (candied orange rinds), caramelised almonds, dried figs, home-made fruit and flower liqueurs and brandies with herbs back with you. These traditional sweet delicacies and drinks are still made after our grandmothers' traditional recipes. Figs dried in the hot sun which conserves their precious ingredients and sugar, are outstandingly delicious. Liqueurs are made from sour cherries, green walnuts, carob, loquat and rose petals soaked in brandy and sugar and kept in the sun.

3. The wine-growing area of the Pelješac Peninsula, is the homeland of Plavac Mali, the best-known variety of grape in the south of Croatia and well known among the wine lovers all over the world. Cultivated on the sun shone slopes above the sea, Plavac, Dingač and Postup with a specific, bold and full flavour are the most famous among red wines. The white wine variety Pošip is grown on the Island of Korčula. The wine of the Dubrovnik aristocrats – Dubrovnik Malvasija, sometimes called the 'nectar of the gods', is a revived type which is grown in the Konavle area, where several top quality wines, both red and white, are produced for true wine-lovers and connoisseurs.

4. The Konavle embroidery is a basic decorative element of the women's traditional costume of this part of the Dubrovnik region. Applied on the bodice and cuffs, it was originally embroidered in silk thread – obtained from the silkworm that was carefully cultivated in every house of Konavle – and dyed with natural colours. The strictly symmetrical geometric motifs were embroidered in a myriad of forms, and most often in red, black and dark green parts with gold-yellow trimming. On the steps of the Dominican monastery, you will see a woman dressed in the original Konavle costume diligently embroidering bookmarks, napkins and tablecloths.

5. The souvenirs at the stone-mason's workshop, under the Dominican steps, include the gargoyles, the Dubrovnik 'Maskerons' one can see on several historic buildings around the City, the Croatian historic plait ornament, crucifixes, models of fortresses and the old stone vessels once used for storage olive oil, nowadays serving as decorative flowerpots. The little stone cross-pendants can also be a nice present, because the glow of the Dubrovnik sun has been captured in these tiny pieces of stone.

6. The basis of healthy Mediterranean food – olive oil – is produced a lot in the south of Croatia. With its golden-yellow hue, unique smell and fullness of taste, it adds a new quality to every dish, especially those prepared from ecologically grown vegetables produced by many healthy food farms in Croatia. Unique cosmetics prepared from natural ingredients, fragrant herbs, medicinal plants and citrus fruits – also make unique souvenirs that you will want to take back home to your family and friends. Essential massage oils contain the fullness of Mediterranean scents – lavender, rosemary, honey, lemon or rose. Cold-pressed soaps hand-made exclusively of natural ingredients such as olive, palm and almond oil, goat milk, essential oils and crushed almonds, will give you that nice feeling of nature.

7. Cosmetic products of the Franciscan Pharmacy, one of the oldest in Europe, still uses original 200-year old recipes. Products include Aqua Rosae, Aqua Rosmarini, Aqua Lavandulae, Gold Cream (wax and almond oil), Rose Cream with rose oil, Rosemary Cream, Moisturizing Cream with almond lotion, Wrinkle Proof Cream (cocoa butter and bergamot oil) and Lip Balm (wax and vanilla).

8. Works of art, paintings, sculptures, glassware and ceramics are also wonderful souvenirs from your trip. The streets of Dubrovnik are filled with galleries where you can see Croatian artist's exhibitions and choose some of the unique pieces of art, whether originals or prints. All gallery owners are well informed about the procedure of taking art objects out of Croatia.

9. The delights of chocolate! Why not try some Croatian chocolate products? Bajadera, Griotte, chocolate sweets in various flavours and exquisite dark chocolates of Croatian trademarks and genuine quality can be found in specialised and souvenir shops.

10. Did you know that Croatia is the homeland of the necktie? The traditional Croatian 17th century military uniform, in particular that of Croatian soldiers serving in France, included a striking scarf tied in a knot around the neck. It quickly became extremely fashionable in Paris as cravate (French pronunciation of Croate). Ordinary soldiers' ties were made of coarse linen, the officers wore those made of silk and delicate cotton. You may find the story of the necktie (in Croatian: kravata) as well as many top quality ties of most recent designs, typical Croatian motifs and modern patterns at the Croata Shop and some other shops in the Old City.

Where to go swimming

After walking among the crowds in the Old City, there's no better way of refreshing yourself than relaxing on one of Dubrovnik's beautiful beaches. The most popular one is The Banje Beach, located next to the Old City and overlooking Island Lokrum. This pebble beach not only offers astonishing views, but also some recreation like kayaking, paragliding and banana boats. If you're not feeling particularly active that day, enjoy a cocktail from the beach bar on one of the beach beds. For a similar view of the city and Island Lokrum, go to St. Jacob's Beach, a beautiful less crowded pebble beach located right under the namesake old monastery. Copacabana and Cava are the two beaches at Babin Kuk, both with pebbles. Copacabana is a better choice for families and those looking for activities, while The Cava is a perfect place for a cocktail or lunch on the beach. Situated in the Lapad area, Uvala is a lovely sandy beach. The Uvala promenade is right next to it, so there are a lot of options for coffee, drinks, food or even some shopping. There's also the Solitudo Beach for those who want to sunbathe in the Lapad area avoiding crowds. Right next to it is a beach for those who want to bring their pets with them. For options outside of town, you can go to the Hawaii Beach in Orašac. Other than the most beautiful view of the Elaphite Islands, the beach also has a coffee bar and a pizzeria. Other beaches in the vicinity: Veliki Žali, Zaton, Brsečine, Trsteno and Štikovica, and numerous little spots at which you can just stop and dive into the crystal clear water.

Finally, if you want to sunbathe on one of the islands and you're a fan of sandy beaches, go to the Elaphite Islands. While Šipan offers mostly pebble and rocky beaches, Koločep and Lopud are paradises for sand lovers. The biggest sandy beach, called Šunj, is located on Lopud, and is definitely one you shouldn't miss. Food or drinks while there, are catered from a large beach bar. For those who want peace and quiet, there's another island that's perfect for them: Island Lokrum lies just across from the Old City and there's no better place to relax and enjoy nature. It's also the only place with a nudist beach. If you want to keep your bikini on, you can choose between the Portoč Beach next to the port, the Dead Sea and the big rocks on the other side of the island. If you are not a great swimmer or have kids with you, the Dead Sea offers its little shores. In conclusion, you'll find clear sea, amazing views and new memories just waiting to be created wherever you go!

Where to go for recreation

Kayak to the island of Lokrum and the Betina Cave and admire the view of the stone Walls on your way back. You can explore the Dubrovnik sea bed, enjoy the silence and mystery of the depths and visit protected submarine archaeological sites within the special programmes offered by diving and water sports centres at some of the beaches. Lapad offers tennis courts at Babin Kuk, the Bay of Lapad and at Gospino Polje. Heading to one of the nearby beaches is the best thing to do during hot summer days in Dubrovnik. Swimming in the clear and warm sea will surely relax and refresh you. For those who wish more, the beaches of Dubrovnik offer additional options. Rent a pedalling boat or a jet-ski and visit picturesque coves in the vicinity, take a banana boat ride, water-ski or windsurf.

If you have an adventurous spirit, take a long walk from Pile to the nearby Gorica Svetoga Vlaha hill with the little Church of St Blaise at its top. Every year, at the closing of the St Blaise Festivity, the church is visited by a procession of people carrying banners. From the hill you can enjoy magnificent views over the City and the open sea.

If you stay at one of the first class hotels at Ploče, do not miss a morning jog or an easy walk to the Sveti Jakov area. At sunset, return to your hotel and relax at the wellness centre, have a massage, swim in the swimming pool, or choose one of the beauty treatments.

Climb the Dubrovnik Walls. This amazing 2-kilometre long walk offers memorable views over the City and the open sea. The Lapad promenades by the sea are inspiring even in the mild Dubrovnik winter. It is a real pleasure to walk along the seaside promenade from the Bay of Lapad towards Hotel Neptune, taking in superb views on the rocks and the lighthouse, then proceeding through Babin Kuk to Copacabana Beach and further along the seashore to the Orsan Sailing Club, where you can refresh yourselves with a fruit juice, a cup of coffee or a wonderful meal from its club restaurant.

More athletic types should climb up to Mount Srdj, for some breathtaking views over the entire City, the surrounding area, the open sea and islands. On foot or by a cable car, do not miss a visit to the museum at Fortress Imperial – the symbol of the City's defence during the Homeland War. For true adventure lovers, there are events at the beautiful Konavle countryside, like in small ATV vehicles, that do not require driving experience. This is where you can try your skill at recreational horseback riding and explore the area in a different way – taking the 11-kilometre long "blue route" through olive-groves, woods and along the steep Konavle coast from where you can admire more spectacular scenery. If you become hungry after all this, do not miss savouring local smoked ham, cheese and wine.

Among other numerous programmes designed to make your active holiday in Dubrovnik unforgettable are big game fishing, fishing by day and night in Cavtat, sailing on rented sailboats, the salt harvest at the Ston Salt Works, jeep safari in Konavle and bicycle ride through the unique national park on the island of Mljet.

Relaxing kayaking tours are also very popular in Dubrovnik, especially if you want to explore beautiful nature and have beautiful views on the city from the sea side.

Wellness

Harmony of Spirit and Body in a Perfect Environment.

It is essential to feel good and to provide your body with much needed strength and energy by exercising in the water, the gym, or swimming. In addition to long walks by the sea, where the air is filled with the fragrances of the Mediterranean, hotel guests rejuvenate their bodies and spirits by enjoying the magic wellness secrets of ancient civilisations, the breath of the Orient and the healing circulation of water.

Those who are looking for the absolute best will find a perfect blend of old and new Dubrovnik, between the harmony of architecture and the nature, peace and elegance, and the surprising pulse of a modern city.

Dubrovnik as destination excels with high quality hotels. Out of a total of forty, twelve are five-star hotels. In accordance with modern trends, the hotels offer the most up-to-date wellness and spa facilities. Dubrovnik hotels' wellness centres have repeatedly been awarded, both in Croatia and internationally, for the high quality services in premises designed to provide relaxation and to soothe the senses. Special attention is paid to natural elements, minimalist decor and selected music, which creates an atmosphere of a refined calmness with a view over the turquoise sea. A balance of spirit and body and relax from the stress of everyday life can be easily established in different saunas, cold, hot, Turkish, Finnish and other baths, also offering various kinds of Eastern massage and aromatherapy.

Activities

for Children

If you are visiting Dubrovnik with children, we would recommend to opt for accommodation in the areas of Lapad and Babin Kuk, where you can spend a lot of time outdoors, taking walks by the sea and along the beaches. King Zvonimir Promenade (Šetnica Kralja Zvonimira) in Lapad Bay (Uvala Lapad) is a pedestrian zone and an ideal place for children on small playgrounds, topped with some good ice cream or pancakes. The entertainment centre along the Promenade offers a variety of fun games for children, and the large cinema centre "Cinestar" offers regular and occasional film programs.

A number of beautiful pebbly beaches are located around the Lapad Bay, with a small floating amusement park. The walking path along the seaside links Lapad Bay with another green oasis, the area of Babin Kuk, is ideal for playing ball, cycling, table tennis, and to test your precision at an outdoor mini golf. Babin Kuk is just a couple minutes walk from the Copacabana Beach on the opposite side of the peninsula with another floating amusement park.

Inside the Old City, children will be interested in the flora and fauna of the Adriatic Sea, displayed in the Dubrovnik Aquarium in St. John's Fortress. The Dubrovnik Natural History Museum features ten collections of flora and fauna, some live and some pressed, specimens that will certainly attract the attention of your kids. The museum periodically organizes themed educational workshops.

Over centuries, children have played football in the City streets, especially in front of the Cathedral, the Church of St. Blaise, and in Domino Street. On the façade of St. Roko's Church there is a plaque in Latin, from 1597, warning that 'you must know you are mortal, you that play the ball!'

A ten minute boat ride from the Old City Harbour will take you to the nearby Island Lokrum, an ideal family spot: discover the Dead Sea lake (Mrtvo more) and take a walk through the groves of the Botanical Garden, with its free-roaming peacocks and hundreds of rare exotic plants. Visit the multimedia exhibition about the island's history and the filming of the globally popular "Game of Thrones" in the Dubrovnik area. Organize a picnic on one of the meadows, in the shade of an olive tree, while the children enjoy encountering peacocks, rabbits and turtles and becoming acquainted with the donkeys. All of you can also take some exercise on outdoor fitness gear.

Take the cable car to The Srdj Mountain and spend the day in the Honey Valley (Medena dolina) at Bosanka, right above Dubrovnik. Your children can enjoy the fresh air, ride ponies, and encounter other domestic animals in this children's little realm. If you decide to stay longer, do not miss a visit to Konavle and take to horseback riding, cycling or walking the natural trails, and have some real fun at the two adrenaline parks. Of trips to the areas around Dubrovnik, we also recommend a visit to the Elaphite Islands, especially Lopud with its famous sandy beach Šunj, or to The Mljet National Park. The clean blue sea and clear sun will fill you with health and energy for the coming winter, and your photographs of their first swimming undertakes, first dives and jumps into the sea, kayaking and pedalling, will remind you of your memorable stay in Dubrovnik forever. Your kids will surely be asking: "When are we going to Dubrovnik again, please!?"
