Dear Visitors, welcome to Dubrovnik!

If you are in our City (unique, among other things, because its residents write the word „city“ with a capital c), this booklet will provide answers to the questions of where, how, when, what... and why Dubrovnik? You will find the answers yourselves on discovering the history, culture, entertainment, sports, shopping, excursions and gastronomy of one of the world's and Europe's most beautiful cities - the city you will fall in love with, wishing to come back. We are convinced that, aided by our suggestions and numerous pieces of information comprised in this edition, you will design an ideal stay in Dubrovnik, either on your own, with your partner, or with your family. Enhance your stay in Dubrovnik by purchasing the Dubrovnik City Card which will facilitate your visit to the city walls, museums, galleries... The card that grants you a considerable saving can be obtained at one of the Dubrovnik Tourist Board information offices. Therefore, relax and let us guide you while discovering one of the countless stories of Dubrovnik, quite special and unique - your very own story.

Have a pleasant stay!

The more than thousand-year old of history of Dubrovnik is reflected in every part of the city. A museum-city and a living stage, it is the ideal blend of the past and present. The City is encompassed by medieval 1,940 metres long walls, which have been preserved in their original form and opened for visitors as the major attraction. A UNESCO World Heritage Site since 1979, Dubrovnik is primarily a cultural destination, offering historic monuments and a large number of cultural events and festivals. A holiday destination as well, it has excellent flight connections with all major European centres. Dubrovnik is a fascinating city which makes you fall in love with it and come back to it over and over again in pursuit of unique experiences.

This brochure is printed on paper by the manufacturer UPM and has been awarded an environmental certificate.

What you should know about the history of Dubrovnik

The successful development of Dubrovnik in the past was conditioned primarily by its favorable geographical position, and by an economy based on maritime and merchant activities.

When entering the Adriatic Sea, Dubrovnik is the first island-protected port on the maritime route going from east to west, with quick access to the hinterland by way of the Neretva Valley. Latest archaeological research has shown that a settlement dating to the 6th century or probably even earlier existed under today's city. It expanded with the arrival of the Croats in the 7th century, following the abandonment of ancient Epidaurus (today's Cavtat).

The intensification of traffic between the East and West both during and after the Crusades resulted in the development of maritime and mercantile centers throughout the Mediterranean and the Adriatic Sea in the 12th and 13th centuries. Dubrovnik was one of them. The Zadar Treaty in 1358 liberated Dubrovnik from Venetian rule, and it was crucial to the successful furthering of its development. The remaining Dalmatian towns failed to achieve this, so that they definitely fell under Venetian rule in the year 1420. Already during the 14th and 15th centuries, Dubrovnik was the most significant maritime and mercantile center of the Adriatic, alongside Venice and Ancona. Dubrovnik expanded its territory by using contracts and by purchasing land from Klek in the north to Sutorina at the entrance to the Bay of Kotor, including the islands of Mljet, Lastovo, Elaphite and Lokrum.

The legal status of the Dubrovnik Republic was completely achieved by the 15th century. This meant the independent election of a rector and councilors, the minting of currency, a state flag with an image of St. Blaise, independent legislature, and the right to establish consulates abroad. According to the aristocratic constitution, the state authority was based on the Great Council, which was made up of Dubrovnik aristocratic families. They, in turn, appointed the members of the Senate and the Small Council, which was the executive body of the Great Council. The Rector was appointed on a monthly basis as a nominal symbol of authority.

Already in the 15th century, Dubrovnik had a well-organized transit trade route with the Balkan hinterland. In 1525, due to the stronger Turkish expansionist policies in the Balkans, the Dubrovnik Republic decided to accept Turkish tutelage and the payment of tribute. However, in return, they obtained the right to free trade throughout the Turkish Empire, with a custom's duty of only 2%. This small state, which had no army of its own, brought its defensive mechanism to perfection using skilful diplomacy and broad consular activities. It managed to preserve its independency by maintaining neutrality in international conflicts, and by using the tutelage of powerful countries, especially that of Spain and the Vatican. The Venetian Republic was its only permanent rival and enemy.

The Dubrovnik Republic entered its golden age in the 16th century, at a time when the power and glory of the Venetian Empire was on the wane. Its prosperity was based on maritime trade. In the 16th century, the Dubrovnik merchant navy matched world levels with its quality fleet of 180 to 200 ships. Increasingly larger types of ships were being built, such as galleys, coasters and navas. These ships were taking on increasingly longer and more dangerous journeys throughout the Mediterranean and Black Sea, as well as ocean journeys to northern ports in England and Germany, even as far as India and the Americas.

Dubrovnik became world-renowned and sought after for the transport of cargo, which included very diverse maritime and trade affairs.

Material prosperity, and the feeling of security and freedom, helped shape a humanist culture that further inspired ardent creativity. Dubrovnik reached magnificent levels of achievement in its urban and architectural development that has been maintained to the present day, in its literature and poetry (Marin Držić, Ivan Gundulić), sciences (Ruđer Bošković), and in many other fields of art and culture.

In the 17th century, the general crisis in Mediterranean maritime affairs also affected Dubrovnik maritime trade. The catastrophic earthquake of 1667 brought the Dubrovnik Republic into a critical period, where it fought for its survival and political independence. The 18th century gave Dubrovnik an opportunity for the economic revival of maritime trade under a neutral flag. This was the state of affairs when Napoleon dissolved the Dubrovnik Republic in 1808.

At the Vienna Congress in 1815, the Dubrovnik region was joined to the other parts of Dalmatia and Croatia. Since then, they have shared a common political fate.

Following the Republic of Croatia's declaration of independence and subsequent Serbian aggression on Croatian territory, Dubrovnik was attacked in October of 1991. The Serbians and the Montenegrins aimed to conquer and destroy the region, attacking with a destructive force that had never been seen so far. The Dubrovnik region was occupied and significantly devastated. In the 8-month siege, the city itself was repeatedly bombarded. The most brutal destruction occurred on December 6th, 1991.

Today, the war-devastated cultural heritage of Dubrovnik has been repaired for the most part. The renovated hotels, the important assets of the Dubrovnik Summer Festival, as well as other cultural events are crucial prerequisites for the development of modern tourism.

How to come

BY PLANE

Dubrovnik Airport is about 20 kilometres away from Dubrovnik. Upon arrival, bus transport to Dubrovnik is organised for each regular flight. Departures include bus transport from the bus terminal 1,5 hours before the flights of Croatia Airlines and Austrian Airlines. For all other regular flights the bus from the bus terminal leaves 2 hours before the flight.

A taxi service is available all day.

BY CAR

Several petrol stations are situated by the access road to and in Dubrovnik, some of which work 24 hours. Petrol stations are included in the city map on page No.1.

Parking

If you wish to go to the Old City in your own car, we recommend you to park at the newly built Public Garage located at Ilijina Glavica (Zagrebačka ulica bb). Open 24 hours a day, the garage has 711 parking places. A walk through Bogišić Park or along Pero Budmani Street will take you to the Old City in just 5 minutes. Street parking lots are marked with special boards which include payment instructions, duration of payment and hourly parking rates. Parking is paid with parking coupons obtained at news-stands and at parking metres and by cellular phone. Parking coupons must be filled in correctly and displayed under the front windscreen of your car. Please prepare the exact amount for the required number of parking hours, because the coin-operated parking machine cannot give you change.

Payment by cellular phone includes sending an SMS message with your registration plate number, without spaces and special characters (for example: DU091DM) to the number of the parking zone indicated on the parking boards. You will get the payment confirmation in the form of the SMS message reply on your cellular phone including all details of the paid parking. By sending one SMS message to the m-parking number, you pay one hour of parking at the most. Upon receiving the SMS message reply with the payment confirmation, you may pay the following parking hours by immediately sending additional SMS messages.

The price of SMS messages is determined in accordance with the current price list of the particular GSM operator. If you do not receive the SMS message reply confirming your payment within 2 minutes, your payment failed and your account will not be charged.

Apart from using hourly parking ticket and adhering to the parking time limit, the user of the parking lot should display a valid parking ticket on his car windscreen, or be in receipt of an SMS message reply confirming payment within 5 minutes of his arrival at the public parking lot. If the car park user fails to pay in one of the afore mentioned ways, he will be charged a full-day parking ticket. A full-day parking coupon payment is effected by paying a daily parking ticket order into the parking organizer's transfer account, or by paying for a full-day parking ticket at the car park payment office window.

The parking lot at Gruž Harbour (Obala pape Ivana Pavla II 1) is also opened 24 hours. The parking price for passenger cars is 10 kunas per hour. The parking offers the possibility of whole day parking for passenger cars at the price of 100 kunas. You might find this piece of information useful if you decide to take a whole day excursion to one of the Dubrovnik islands, because the parking lot is located in close vicinity to the place where the boats land. The parking prices for bigger vehicles (caravans, mini-buses and other vehicles up to and more than 5 metres long, and buses) increase in proportion to their size.

BY BOAT

Dubrovnik has excellent boat connections to other Croatian harbours and to Bari Harbour in Italy. Dubrovnik also has daily boat lines to the nearby islands (Koločep, Lopud, Šipan and Mljet, and seasonal lines to Korčula and Lastovo). Gruž Harbour is 2 kilometres from the Old City. Jadrolinija Agency, banks, ATM, exchange offices, parking lot, Konzum Supermarket, Srđ Department Store, open-air green market, Petka Hotel, several agencies, Rent-a car and the Dubrovnik Tourist Board Information Office are located in close proximity to the harbour. The Old City is about 20 minutes walk from the harbour. Buses no. 1a, 1b, 1c, 3 and 8 will take you there in about ten minutes. The bus ticket, which you purchase on the bus is 15 kunas, but you can buy it at the news-stand at the price of 12 kunas. The taxi stand is in close vicinity to the harbour.

BY BUS

The newly built Dubrovnik Bus Terminal is situated in Gruž, in the vicinity of the harbour. In addition to information and booking desks it offers a left-luggage office, taxi stand and kiosk. One of the Dubrovnik Tourist Board Information Offices is also located in close proximity to the Bus Terminal. Apart from international bus lines, Dubrovnik has daily bus lines to all major Croatian cities.

The terminal has excellent local bus connections with other parts of the city. A taxi service is also available.

What form of transport to choose

PUBLIC BUS TRANSPORT

During your stay in Dubrovnik we recommend you the public bus transport. You will enjoy a pleasant ride on the new, low-floored, air-conditioned buses of the Libertas Public Transport Company. All city districts are excellently connected with frequent regular bus lines. The public bus time-tables are posted at every bus stop. They are also available at the Dubrovnik Tourist Board Information Offices and at your hotel reception desk.

Bus tickets can be obtained from the bus driver (15 kunas), at kiosks („S“ ticket – 12 kunas), at the Libertas Company ticket-windows at Pile, Bus Terminal and in Mokošica, at hotel reception desks and tourist agencies.

Please prepare the exact amount for the tickets purchased on the bus, because the driver cannot give you change. The purchased bus ticket, after being clipped for the first time, is valid for one hour for an unlimited number of rides within the city. The price for a daily bus ticket is 30 kunas.

The magnet card payment system involves turning the front side of the ticket containing the magnetic strip towards you and inserting it into the ticket-machine, after which you take the ticket out.

If you have a contactless bus ticket, you merely press it against the sensor.

RENT-A CAR, RENT-A SCOOTER, RENT-A BIKE, RENT-A BOAT

Many agencies in Dubrovnik provide rental services. The price of rental depends on the type of vehicle and rental period. Apart from passenger cars, you can also rent scooters, bicycles and boats. A rented vehicle will enable you to explore the surroundings of Dubrovnik and the sights of the neighbouring countries. Most of the agencies will ask you to present your credit card and a category B driving licence. For renting a motorcycle over 50 ccm you will need a category A motorcycle driving licence.

TAXI

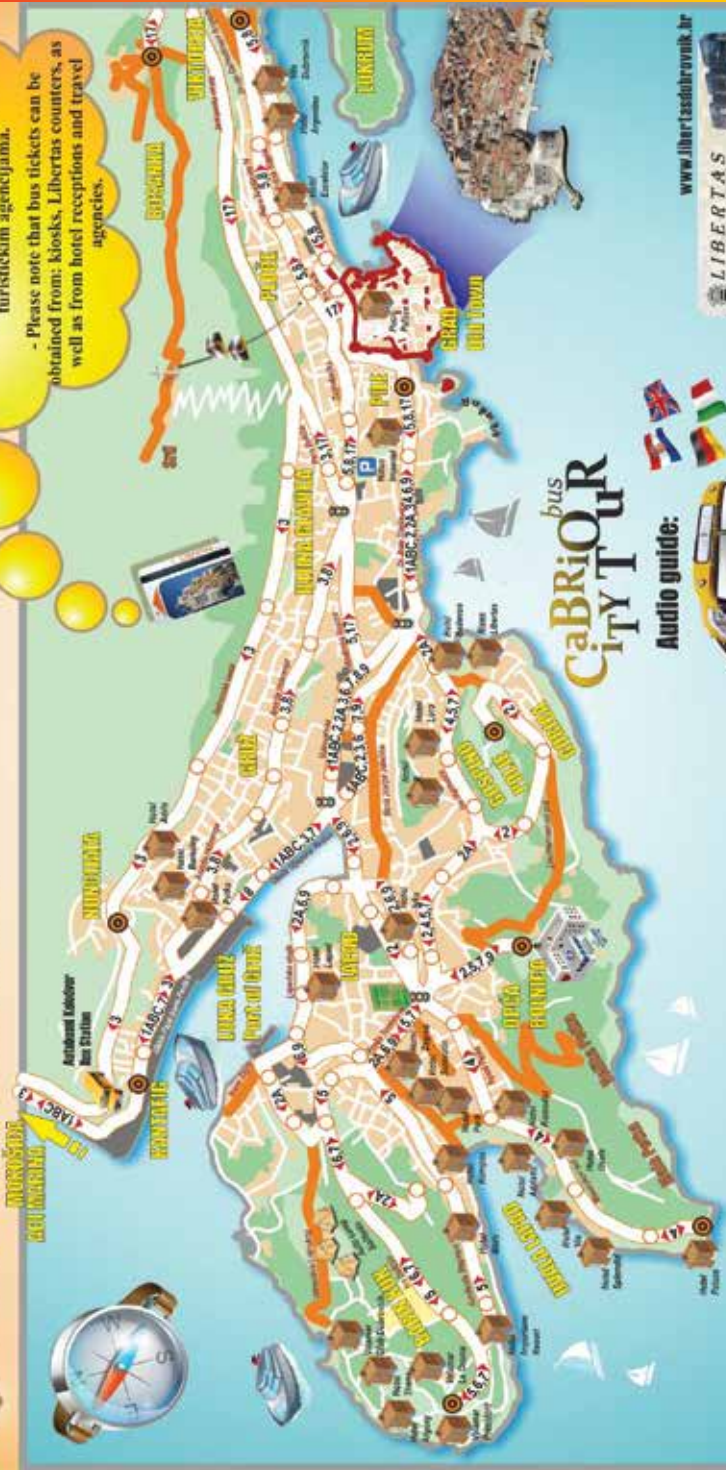

Taxi stands are located in the busiest parts of the city (City Map), with the taxi fares posted in a prominent place. When a customer enters a taxi, the taximeter must be running. If the taximeter is not running, the customer is not obliged to pay the fare. The taxi accommodates a maximum of four people. If you would like to lodge a complaint for the taxi service charge, it would be useful to obtain the bill from the driver including the valid stamp, the service given and the registration plate. You may take a taxi for a memorable panoramic tour of the City and its surroundings. Such a tour usually includes a drive to the new bridge offering a view of Gruž Harbour, Lapad, Rijeka Dubrovačka and the islands. You may continue the tour along the Adriatic Highway with a view over the entire city, and go to Mount Srđ (412 metres) and enjoy a memorable panoramic view of Dubrovnik and the surrounding area.

You may also arrange a whole or half day excursion to the surroundings of Dubrovnik and arrange the price with the driver (www.taxi-dubrovnik.hr, www.taxi-ragusa-dubrovnik.com).

BOAT GRUŽ–LAPAD–GRUŽ

If you have just taken a walk to Gruž, or you have just arrived in Dubrovnik on a ship, if you are heading for Lapad and are already tired, if you have missed your bus and a taxi is nowhere in sight, even if you have no special reason – we suggest the traditional boat transport. The boat operates from Gruž to Lapad and back only in summer, in the morning (from 7.00 am to 12.30 am), at quite convenient prices. As soon as a few passengers appear, the boat-ride man starts the engine and sails to the opposite side of the harbour. With no official time schedule, the boat leaves approximately every ten minutes. In Gruž the boat lands in front of the open-air market, and in Lapad in front of the Lapad Hotel. The sign Taxi Gruž-Lapad-Gruž and the price are posted on the boat.

BOAT TO ISLAND OF LOKRUM

The boat to the Island of Lokrum (special forestry reserve in the vicinity of Dubrovnik) departs from the Old City Harbour every half hour during the season and lands in the little bay of Portoč. The ride lasts about ten minutes and the boat tickets are purchased in front of the boat. (www.lokrum.hr)
The boat does not operate in poor weather conditions.

BOAT TO ELAFITE ISLANDS

The boat to the Elafite Islands (Koločep, Lopud and Šipan) departs from Gruž Harbour. The time schedules are available at the Jadrolinija Office in Gruž located in close proximity to the landing place and at the Dubrovnik Tourist Board Information Offices. Boat tickets can be purchased at the Jadrolinija Office. (www.jadrolinija.hr)

BOAT TO ISLAND OF MLJET

In addition to the ferry boat departing from Gruž Harbour to Sobra Harbour on the Island of Mljet – time schedules and tickets available at the Jadrolinija Office in Gruž - you may also reach the Island of Mljet on the hydrofoil Nona Ana. Apart from the Sobra Harbour, during the season the hydrofoil arrives in Polače Harbour situated in the vicinity of the Mljet National Park. For detailed information please contact the G&V Line agency. (www.gv-line.hr)

The Jadrolinija Agency ferry operates from Sobra Harbour to Prapratno Harbour on the Pelješac Peninsula all the year round and during the season also to the Island of Korčula and to Split. (www.jadrolinija.hr)

FERRY-BOAT

Beside the above mentioned lines, throughout the year there are ferry connections from Dubrovnik to other major Croatian harbours (Korčula, Stari Grad on the Island of Hvar, Split and Rijeka), and to Bari Harbour in Italy.

The tickets, detailed information and time schedules are available at the Jadrolinija Office in Gruž. (www.jadrolinija.hr)

Where to stay

Dubrovnik offers various kinds of accommodation: from camps and comfortable rooms in private accommodation to luxurious 5 star hotels.

When choosing the type of accommodation, you will also have to choose in which city district you wish to stay.

HOTELS

Like in other parts of Croatia, hotels in Dubrovnik are classified in five categories, from one to deluxe five stars. The quality of hotel accommodation in Dubrovnik is extremely high. Some of them are among the best and finest in Croatia. You may choose from luxurious suites to middle and low category hotel rooms, but you will always find helpful personnel waiting for you in the pleasant premises.

Open the whole year round, the Dubrovnik Hostel is a meeting place for young people from all over the world. It is a 10-minute drive by regular bus from the harbour and bus terminal and a 10-minute walk from the Old City. The Youth Hostelling Card is required for your stay at the hostel.

PRIVATE ACCOMMODATION

Dubrovnik offers a large number of holiday houses, apartments and private rooms. Apart from much lower prices, this kind of accommodation offers the opportunity to learn the way of life in the City. Top-class, clean and comfortable, the apartments and rooms within a household, or as separate units, guarantee complete privacy and independence from the host. Information about private accommodation can be obtained at travel agencies which deal with private accommodation. Private accommodation booking is not available at the Dubrovnik Tourist Board offices.

IMPORTANT NOTICE!

Please check if you have been registered!

The registration and sojourn tax payment for both Croatian and foreign visitors is obligatory according to the Sojourn Tax Law and the Aliens Transit and Sojourn Law. Registration is in your own interest and provides greater safety, quality and comfort of accommodation.

If you would like to make a complaint, please contact the tourist inspection, phone: +385 20 351 048

AUTO CAMPS

Nature lovers have the opportunity to camp in close proximity to Dubrovnik, at charming little resorts on the coast, but also in Dubrovnik at Solitudo Campsite located in Lapad. Only a 15-minute bus ride from the Old City, this green city district abounds with beaches, hotels and walking paths. The only parking area for caravans and passenger vans is located at Gruž Harbour, where parking is paid by the hour- or day.

IMPORTANT NOTICE!

Camping outside registered camping sites or parking lots for caravans and passenger vans is forbidden and can lead to a fine in Croatia. Camping in parking lots and by the roads is not permitted in Dubrovnik.

FOR YACHTSMEN

You will undoubtedly be mesmerized by the beauty of the islands, coast and sea in the local waters of Dubrovnik.

This is where lovers of this kind of tourism and passionate yachtsmen - participants in one of the numerous regattas which take place in the waters of Dubrovnik the whole year round – will both find a perfect holiday and entertainment. After a pleasant but strenuous sailing trip, a berth in a marina with all facilities will come in handy, whether you merely need to restock with water, fuel and food for the continuation of your sailing, or you are in need of some service. A year-round berth for your boat is available at the Dubrovnik Marina.

The Dubrovnik ACI Marina in Rijeka Dubrovačka (Komolac) is open the whole year round. It is about 2 kilometres away from the entrance to Gruž Harbour and only 6 kilometres from the Old City. It has 450 wet- and 110 dry berths. The Marina excellent bus connections with the city centre.

Upon sailing into the territorial waters of the Republic of Croatia boat captains are obliged to use the shortest route to the nearest international port of call in order to pass the border control and obtain a vignette at the harbour master's office or a branch office. The year-round border crossing is located at Gruž Harbour, whereas an international port of call is open in Cavtat during the season. A small number of anchorages/berths mainly for large yachts is available at Gruž Harbour.

At the Orsan Sailing Club, located in Gruž Bay, berths are available primarily for club members.

Where to dine

If you would like to see how a nation really lives, you should go to the market place - the very stomach of the city - and smell, touch and taste the food which people consume every day. Even the finest chefs who visit Dubrovnik and prepare international dishes in some of the city restaurants cannot resist the taste of courgettes from Župa Dubrovačka, cabbage from Konavle and aubergines and tomatoes grown in the fertile and unpolluted surroundings of Dubrovnik. The gastronomy of an area is based on the fruits which grow on ecologically-preserved land, as is still the case with that in the Dubrovnik environs. The delicacies of Dubrovnik are plain and without many spices. Prepared in a simple way, they are seasoned with plenty of olive oil, which accentuates the juicy taste of natural foods. The gastronomic choice on offer at Dubrovnik restaurants is heterogeneous, varied and in accordance with the guests' wishes. Those visiting local taverns wish to taste authentic national food, first-class smoked ham, cheese kept in oil, octopus' salad, zelena menestra (smoked meat and cabbage stew), sporchi macaroni, fried sprats and grilled sardines. Visitors to top class restaurants, on the other hand, are served the freshest fish from Adriatic depths, shellfish from the unpolluted sea and other delicacies prepared to meet the requests of the choosiest gourmands. Restaurants also serve the popular sushi, which has become an essential part of western cuisine. In the attractive ambience of the Dubrovnik restaurants one can also enjoy French cuisine and excellent steaks which would do credit to the finest Argentinian restaurants. In compliance with the wishes and adventurous way of life of younger visitors, fast food restaurants, pizzerias and small restaurants serve simple Dalmatian food and dishes of other cuisines.

CITY WALLS WITH FORTS

The Dubrovnik city walls are the major attraction for visitors and one of the best preserved fortification complexes in Europe. The 1940-metre long walls encompass five forts and sixteen towers and bastions. The world's second most attractive museum in the open air, the walls are open for visitors all the year round. The three entrances to the walls include those next to St Luke's Church in the east, next to St Saviour's Church at the Pile entrance to the Old City and next to the Maritime Museum located at St John's Fort. Taking a walk along the Dubrovnik city walls you will see some of the striking forts used for the defence of the Dubrovnik Republic. Of the five existing forts, Minčeta, Bokar and St John were built within the city walls complex, whereas the two freestanding ones include Lovrjenac in the west and Revelin in the east. Located at the highest point of the city Fort Minčeta protected Dubrovnik from the north. The fort is the symbol of Dubrovnik's defence and the flag of our homeland waves on it all the time. In summer you can also see the Libertas flag flying on Fort Minčeta. In the southwest Fort Bokar, also called Zvezdan, stands at the corner of the city walls facing Lovrjenac. It was constructed in the 15th century for the purpose of protecting the small western City harbour, the moat and the Pile bridge. Today it houses a collection of stone fragments from the Dubrovnik area. St John's Fort is the first quadrangular pier tower built in 1346 in order to protect the city harbour from the southeast. A long time ago the city chain was pulled by means of a winch from the fort. An aquarium is situated in the fort's ground floor, whereas the first and the second floor house the Maritime Museum. At the foot of St John's Fort is a huge pier with a lighthouse - the well-known Porporela, the meeting place of lovers, a promenade and bathing place of residents of the Old City. From Porporela one can see Fort Revelin standing outside the city walls at the eastern entrance to the city. The stone and wooden draw bridge connects the imposing fort with the land side, and another stone bridge connects it with the city. Surrounded with a moat on three sides and the sea on the fourth, the fort was a part of the city which was quite difficult to take over. Although constructed in an earlier period, Revelin acquired its present day dimensions and size in the 16th century. The interior of the fort and its terraces are concert venues of the Dubrovnik Symphony Orchestra and the Dubrovnik Summer Festival.

LOVRIJENAC FORT

Lovrijenac Fort is situated to the west of the Old City on a 37 metre-high rock. The symbol of Dubrovnik's survival and freedom, the fort was used for the defence of the city and the western Pile gate. Above the entrance to the fort is the famed inscription: NON BENE PRO TOTO LIBERTAS VENDITUR AURO (Freedom is not sold for all gold in the world).

The first official records mention the fort in 1301, although it is believed that its construction began earlier. Today Lovrijenac is well-known as one of the Dubrovnik Summer Festival open-air venues particularly suitable for works by William Shakespeare. Among the finest actors who appeared here in the role of the unfortunate prince of Denmark are Rade Šerbedžija, Daniel Day Lewis and Goran Višnjić.

STRADUN (LARGE AND SMALL ONOFRIO FOUNTAIN, ORLANDO, BELL-TOWER AND GREEN MEN, RECTOR'S PALACE, SPONZA)

The residents of old Dubrovnik entered the city through two main gates, the eastern gate at Ploče and the western one at Pile. The draw bridges were pulled up at night to prevent passage to uninvited visitors. Entering the Pile gate, you come to the principal street called Placa or Stradun. The main open-air public space of Dubrovnik, the favourite promenade and meeting place, the venue of all great festivities and processions, Stradun is the main shopping area and the widest and most beautiful street which divides the Old City into its northern and southern part. Its origins go back to the 11th century, when the people filled up the shallow sea channel which separated the one time Islet of Lave and a settlement on it from the land where another settlement existed. Placa acquired its proper function in the late 12th century when both settlements were joined into one urban unit by a city wall complex. The name Placa comes from the Latin term "platea communis", denoting the venue of all major public events. The second name Stradun has a Venetian origin and means a large street. The Large Onofrio Fountain stands at the eastern end of Stradun. It was named after the constructor of the 11,7- kilometre long Dubrovnik water supply system from the 15th century, which supplied the stone city with water from the village of Šumet located in the Dubrovnik hinterland. A second, small fountain which Onofrio della Cava constructed was put up close to the city bell-tower. Today it still feels good to refresh oneself with cool water from the Dubrovnik fountains, while the bell-tower strikes the hours during the hot summer days.

Stradun

Large Onofrio Fountain

Small Onofrio Fountain

The 31-metre high City Bell-Tower with a clock was built in 1444. In 1509 the famous foundryman Ivan Rabljanin cast the bell and the green men Baro and Maro. The Dubrovnik green men on the bell-tower strike on the hour, repeating the striking after three minutes, and also strike on the half-hour. Between the City Bell-Tower and Sponza Palace is Luža, the old bell-tower, which sounded the convoking of the Dubrovnik Republic council, but also fire and other alarms. Luža was built in 1463, and thoroughly reconstructed in 1952. The monumental Sponza Palace stands on the left. Built in the Gothic-Renaissance style, it preserved its original form till the present day. At the time of the Dubrovnik Republic it housed the customs office and storehouses, and was therefore also called Divona (from the word dogana – meaning customs). Apart from the customs office, the state mint, the exchequer and treasury were also situated at the palace, designed by the Dubrovnik master Paskoje Miličević. Today the palace is the home of the major cultural institution of the Dubrovnik Archives.

The documents which span the period from the 12th century to the fall of the Dubrovnik Republic which are kept there make this institution one of the most significant archives in the world. Particularly valuable is the collection of statutory and law books, including the Dubrovnik Statute from 1272. The Dubrovnik Orlando Column is adorned with a statue of the medieval knight holding a sword in his hand. With a characteristic gothic smile on his face encircled with long curls, he is considered one of Europe's handsomest Rolands. According to the contract from 1418 it was made by Bonino of Milan, with the help of the Dubrovnik masters. The Orlando Column is the symbol of statehood. On its pole, where the flag of the Dubrovnik Republic once flew, the Croatian national flag now stands. During the Festival of St Blaise, the Dubrovnik patron saint, the column is bedecked with a flag with his image, and during the Dubrovnik Summer Festival with the Libertas flag.

CHURCHES (ST BLAISE, FRANCISCAN MONASTERY, CATHEDRAL, ST SAVIOUR, DOMINICAN MONASTERY)

The Baroque church dedicated to the Dubrovnik patron Saint Blaise was constructed according to the design of the Venetian master Marino Gropelli in 1715, on the site of the previous church in the Romanesque style dedicated to the same saint. On the main church altar is a valuable Gothic statue of St Blaise from the 15th century, the work of the Dubrovnik goldsmith's school. In addition to its artistic value, the statue has documentary worth. Thanks to the city model, which the saint holds in his left hand, the buildings that were to be destroyed later in the great earthquake can clearly be seen. The Church of St Blaise is located in the Old City centre close to the Orlando Column. The small votive Church of St Saviour is situated at the beginning of Stradun, between the Pile Gate and the Franciscan Monastery. Following a decision of the Dubrovnik Senate, the church was built in 1520 in gratitude for the saviour's sparing the city from destruction in a major earthquake which befell Dubrovnik at the time. A testimony to this is a monumental tablet on the church facade. Constructed by the master Petar Andrijić of Korčula, the church remained intact during the disastrous earthquake in 1667. Preserved in its original form, it is a fine example of Dubrovnik Renaissance building. The interior of the church is nowadays used for concerts and exhibitions. The historic records on the Old Pharmacy, founded in 1317, before the devastating earthquake in 1667 are very scarce. Initially it was a monastery pharmacy for sick Franciscan friars, in accordance with the provisions of their order. In the course of time, primarily for humanitarian and charitable reasons, the pharmacy expanded outside the monastery walls and became a public pharmacy. Today it is still in function, and its products include preparations made according to age-old recipes, which are also popular with the tourists. The pharmacy is located next to the Baroque church at the Franciscan Monastery atrium, the capitals of which are adorned with examples of the Romanesque bestiary. The church includes a picturesque hall in the Renaissance style, music archives, a rich library and silver and gold art objects. The Dubrovnik Cathedral of the Assumption of the Virgin Mary exists in its present day form from the early 18th century. According to historic records, the former Romanesque cathedral was an outstandingly luxurious church with a cupola, richly decorated with statues. Legend has it that it was built with the votive money which the English king Richard the Lionheart donated having survived a shipwreck near the Island of Lokrum in 1192 on his way back from the 3rd Crusade. During the restoration works on the Cathedral in 1981, the remains of another earlier cathedral were found, the architectural features of which determine its origins between the 6th and 8th century. This discovery gave a new dimension to the early history of Dubrovnik, bearing evidence of the city being a developed urban community as early as in the 7th century. The Cathedral now houses a rich treasury including paintings and relics, and in its apse stands Titian's polyptych the Assumption of the Virgin Mary from 1552. St Dominic's Church is one of the largest buildings in the Gothic style on the Croatian coast. Constructed according to a simple architectural design, it has one nave with a Gothic apse, separated from the remaining area of the church with three high openings with the Gothic vaults. In the central vault above the main altar is a huge highly valued Crucifix by Paolo Veneziano from 1314. The Dominican Monastery paintings include works by the 15th and 16th century masters of the Dubrovnik school of painting (Božidarević, Hamzić and Dobričević) and a canvas by the great Titian with the Dubrovnik patron St Blaise, St Mary Magdalene and the angel Raphael. Valuable Dominican documents, incunabula, manuscripts, the Bible from the 11th century and a jewellery collection of the Dubrovnik goldsmiths are also exhibited at the church.

SQUARES (GUNDULIĆ, BUNIĆ AND BOŠKOVIĆ SQUARE)

A walk in the city streets and Stradun will certainly take you to some of the numerous Dubrovnik squares. Situated in front of the Cathedral, the Marin Držić Square leads to the city district of Karmen, to the city harbour and to the Aquarium. The people of Dubrovnik once called it „in front of Our Lady’s Church“. The buildings in the square include the Dubrovnik Cathedral, the Sorkočević Palace, the little Church of St Bartholomew, the Dulčić-Masle-Pulitika Gallery and the Memorial Room of the United States Secretary of Commerce Ronald Brown who died on 3 April 1996 when his American plane crashed on St John’s Hill. The square was named after Marin Držić – Vidra (Dubrovnik 1508 – Venice 1567), the playwright, poet, conspirator and church organist. He studied in Dubrovnik and in Italy. In 1541 Držić was appointed Vice-Chancellor of Siena University. While staying in Florence in 1566 he asked the help of Cosimo Medici in overthrowing the Dubrovnik Republic regime and in introducing a system in which persons who were not of noble birth could also govern. In his works he wrote about the universal human themes: love, longing for youth and miserliness. Držić’s plays vibrate with the vitality of life. His best-known works include Tirena, Grižula, Venus and Adonis, The Story of Stanac, The Miser, Hecuba and Uncle Maroje. In his comedy Uncle Maroje Držić conjured up a vision of a society of equals with no difference between good and bad people, portraying the main feature of his time – miserliness. A statue of the Dubrovnik poet Ivan Gundulić (Dubrovnik 1589 - 1638) stands in the Gundulić Square. Educated in his native city, Gundulić was appointed Rector of Konavle twice, a senator, Minor Council member and envoy to a Bosnian pasha. The major representative of the Baroque style in Dubrovnik, he wrote works which reveal the spirit of the Catholic reformation. His main motifs include realisations about the transitoriness of human life. Among Gundulić’s best-known works are Tears of the Prodigal Son (Venice, 1622), Dubravka (performed in Dubrovnik in 1628) and Osman (printed as late as 1826). He was buried in the Franciscan Church, and the oldest copies of Osman from 1652 and a copy from 1826 printed in Dubrovnik are kept in the Franciscan Monastery library. Apart from the statue of Gundulić from the 19th century, a small Amerling Fountain – damaged during the aggression in 1991 - stands in the square of the same name, which was constructed after the disastrous earthquake in 1667. The square is the venue of the green market, where dwellers of the nearby villages sell their products. The monumental Baroque stairs in the southern part of the Gundulić Square lead to the Ruđer Bošković Square. The buildings in the square include the Jesuit Church of St Ignatius and the Collegium Ragusinum, the famous Dubrovnik Jesuit school. Many people consider this urban complex to be the finest Baroque set of buildings in all of Dalmatia. St Ignatius’ Church was completed in 1725 after the design of the famous Jesuit architect Ignazio Pozzo. It houses trompe l’oeil Baroque frescos by the painter Gaetano Garcia portraying scenes from the life of St Ignatius, the founder of the Jesuit order. Adjoining the church facade at an angle of 45 degrees stands the building of the Jesuit Collegium. Its neutral and hard lines accentuate the Baroque facade of the church and the Baroque steps that descend into the city. The designer of the magnificent Baroque steps is the Roman architect Pietro Passalacqua. Designed in 1738, the impressive steps are reminiscent of the famous steps leading to the Trinità dei Monti Church in the Piazza di Spagna in Rome.

ISLAND OF LOKRUM

The first records of the Island of Lokrum from 1023 mention it as the venue of the foundation of a Benedictine Abbey and Monastery. Legend has it that after a shipwreck on his way back from the Crusade in Palestine, Richard the Lionheart found shelter precisely on the Island of Lokrum in 1192. As a sign of gratitude should he be saved, he made a vow to build a church in the place where he would come ashore. However, he fulfilled his vow only in part. Upon the request of the people of Dubrovnik, Richard the Lionheart provided the money for the continuation of the building of the cathedral within the city. In 1839 Maximilian von Habsburg visited and bought the Island of Lokrum. He had his summer residence built on the ruins of the monastery with a magnificent garden, walking paths and promenades. The tradition of gardening and cultivation of exotic plants from the time of the Benedictines via Maximilian von Habsburg until today was continued in 1959, when the Botanical Garden was founded. The majority of plants were brought from Australia and South America, and the collection of eucalyptuses, cactuses and succulent plants is a special attraction. In 1963 the Island of Lokrum was declared a Natural Reserve and in 1976 a Special Forestry Reserve. A small lake on the island called Mrtvo More (Dead Sea), connected with the open sea, is suitable for children and non-swimmers. Located on an elevation, the star-shaped Fort Royal, built by the French in 1806, offers a magnificent view of Dubrovnik, Cavtat and the islands. In only ten minutes, a boat from the Old City Harbour will take you to the nearby Island of Lokrum, a favourite excursion place also known as the Island of Love.

TRSTENO

The name of this village situated some twenty kilometres west of Dubrovnik comes from the Croatian word trstika (cane), which grows in the area thanks to an abundance of water. Two giant Asian plane-trees (Platanus Orientalis), which are more than 400 years old, growing in a little square, are considered the biggest trees of their kind in Europe. The greatest attraction in the village is the magnificent Trsteno Arboretum, the only one on the Croatian Adriatic coast, which combines the rich cultural and natural heritage. The arboretum, renowned for its historic gardens and a collection of Mediterranean and exotic plants, was founded in 1948 in the area of the summer residence of the Dubrovnik Gučetić-Gozze aristocrat family. The entire arboretum is a protected monument of garden architecture. Spreading over 25 hectares, the Trsteno Arboretum comprises a number of different units: the historic Renaissance garden with the summer residence, the historic neo-romantic garden from the 19th/20th century, the historic olive grove and the natural vegetation of the woods of the Downy oak, Alpine pine tree and cypress, as well as the vegetation of macchia and coastal rocks. In 1494, at the time of the Renaissance, Ivan Marinov Gučetić-Gozze built a summer residence with a garden on his Trsteno estate, which soon became one of the humanistic cultural centres of Dubrovnik. In this Arcadian idyll, numerous Dubrovnik poets – including one of the most beautiful women of the Croatian renaissance, the Dubrovnik poetess Cvijeta Zuzorić – wrote their verses and had love affairs. One of the arboretum attractions – the garden fountain – was supplied with water by a 70-metre long aqueduct resting on fourteen arches. In 1736 the former Renaissance fountain was turned into a luxuriant Baroque nymphaeum with the god of the sea and waters Neptune as the central figure in a stone statue group.

ELAFITE ISLANDS

In the course of history the Elafite Islands relied on the city of Dubrovnik and the Dubrovnik Republic, in whose possession they had supposedly been from the 11th century. According to historic records, the rector of the islands of Koločep, Lopud and Šipan was appointed in 1272. The islands were inhabited from ancient times, a fact which is borne out by the remains of Illyrian buildings and Greek and Roman toponyms. The commitment to the sea and seamanship improved life conditions on the Elafite Islands, which flourished during the golden age of Dubrovnik in the 15th and 16th centuries. Of the thirteen Elafite Islands only three are inhabited: Koločep, Lopud and Šipan. During your stay in Dubrovnik, do not miss visiting them on the boat Postira. You can visit all three islands in one day and enjoy exploring the little old-Croatian churches on the Island of Koločep, bathe on the sandy beach of Šunj on the Island of Lopud, visit the summer residence of the Skočibuha-Stjepović family in Suđurađ and walk the fertile Šipan field covered with olive groves and vineyards, passing by the Rector's Palace, up to the Church of St Stephen in the Luka Šipanska. The islands boast their own gastronomic delicacies. The fishermen bring the freshly caught fish from the crystal blue sea, and the taste of ecologically-grown vegetables is enhanced by home-made olive oil. Visit the Art Pavilion Your Black Horizon on the Island of Lopud, which has placed the island on a tourist-art map of the world. An obligatory destination for lovers of modern art and summer vacation, this project was realised thanks to the International Thyssen-Bornemisza Contemporary Art (T-B A21) Foundation presided over by the distinguished modern art collector Francesca von Habsburg. The Art Pavilion Your Black Horizon, which is the joint work of the Danish-Icelandic artist Olafur Eliasson and the London architect David Adjaye, unites art and architecture, and is special primarily for its adaptability to a certain location and its environment.

SRĐ – PANORAMA AND MUSEUM

The 415-metre high Mount Srđ rises northwards from Dubrovnik. The monumental Fort Imperial was built in this strategic place during Napoleon's occupation in 1810. From the fort the French controlled Dubrovnik's sea and hinterlands. Fort Imperial, as the first line of defence, played a major role during the Croatian War of Independence. A huge stone cross stands near the fort. The former cross made of well-known Brač stone – a present from the Brač-Hvar Archbishop's District to Dubrovnik in 1933 – was destroyed during the Croatian War of Independence, and the new one – also a present from the Brač-Hvar Archbishop's District – was erected after the war. A favourite place for taking photographs, Mount Srđ offers a magnificent view of Dubrovnik and its surroundings. Fort Imperial houses a museum display of the Croatian War of Independence with numerous exhibits including all kinds of weapons and shells which hit Dubrovnik during the bombardment, documents and video presentations of the war and suffering in Dubrovnik

LAZARETTO

In bygone times Dubrovnik was a crossroads of caravan routes. In great danger of contracting the plague, the people of Dubrovnik built lazarettos which served as isolation hospitals. Visitors from pestiferous and suspicious areas - according to a Liber Viridis regulation from 1377 entitled "Visitors from pestiferous areas are forbidden to enter Dubrovnik and its surroundings" - had to spend 40 days in special places in Cavtat, on the Islands of Mrkan, Bobara and St Peter. This initiated the construction of the first lazarettos in the Dubrovnik Republic. All merchants - particularly those arriving from areas contaminated by plague - as well as seamen, and all suspicious and pestiferous people had to stay in quarantine before entering the city. The history of the Dubrovnik lazarettos reflects the entire history of the protection against plague in the Dubrovnik Republic. The last constructed lazaretto is the one located at the eastern entrance to the city called Ploče. The construction of the lazaretto, comprising 5 buildings, was completed in 1642. One entered these buildings by stairs, and the corridors in front of the structures were connected by a spacious area. The lazaretto had its own water cistern, and the city authorities provided it with a priest, physician, barber-surgeon and a sufficient number of attendants. The lazaretto regulations were very strict and were maintained rigorously. The lazaretto has been excellently preserved and some of its buildings are nowadays venues for various art and craft workshops. It also houses a stage for performances by the Lindo Folklore Ensemble and those by various young artists' associations.

Old City Harbour

Paskoje Miličević (born around 1440) became a municipal engineer as early as 1466. He became widely famous for building the bastion of St Luke at the harbour entrance (1484) and for his other construction works in the Dubrovnik harbour. Miličević began the plan for the harbour according to one of two proposals which he had sent to the Major Council. After the construction of the Kaše breakwater, the harbour area was protected both from huge waves and enemies. Before that, the harbour was protected by a chain stretching from St John's to St Luke's Fort. Miličević also worked on the new Od Ponte Gate, constructed after a design by Juraj Dalmatinac. He completed his works on the harbour in the early 16th century. The Peskarija (fish market) and the Porporela lungomare-breakwater were built in the 19th century during Austrian rule. The large and small arsenals for building and repairing the ships and boats were situated in the City Harbour, in the place of the present-day restaurants Arsenal and Poklisar.

Dubrovnik's baroque Assumption of the Virgin Mary Cathedral was built in the 18th century over the earlier Romanesque Cathedral dating to the 12th century, which was destroyed in the great earthquake of 1667.

The construction of the Romanesque Cathedral is tied to the legend of King Richard the Lionheart. Legend has it that he was shipwrecked and saved on the island of Lokrum on his return journey from the Third Crusade. In gratitude, he donated a certain sum of money for the completion of St Mary's Cathedral. And today, the crypt located underneath the baroque cathedral can be visited on special request.

The Treasury inside the cathedral houses 132 relics of saints dating from the 11th to the 19th centuries. The priceless head, arms and leg relics of St. Blaise that were crafted by Dubrovnik goldsmiths date between the 11th and 12th centuries.

For Nature Lovers

Lokrum – Special Forestry Reserve

In only ten minutes a boat from the Old City Harbour will take you to the Island of Lokrum, a special forestry reserve under UNESCO protection. A favourite bathing and excursion place in close proximity to the City, Lokrum is also the exotic and mysterious venue of many legends and stories. A small lake on the island called Mrtvo More (Dead Sea) is suitable for children and non-swimmers. Walk to the highest point of Lokrum, the elevation with the star-shaped Fort Royal, built by the French in 1806. The place offers a magnificent view of the City, Cavtat and the islands. The roads and walking paths of Lokrum will take you through the botanical garden with an interesting collection of eucalyptuses, cactuses and succulent plants to the remains of the 12th/13th century basilica, the 15th/16th century monastery with an atrium garden, and the summer residence of Maximilian von Habsburg from the 19th century with gardens and a park. You will be enchanted by the woods of holm-oak, flowering ash, Aleppo pine, the old olive grove from the time when the Benedictines ran the island, gardens and parks.

Trsteno Arboretum

Trsteno is a small seaside village known for its rich history, natural beauty and the 500-year old giant natural monuments - Asian plane-trees. It is the home of the Trsteno Arboretum. One can easily get there in some 20 minutes by one of the regular buses connecting Dubrovnik with the Dubrovnik coastland. Trsteno boasts the 15th century renaissance summer residence of Gučetić-Gozze family, with its garden which has been cultivated from the 15th century to the present day. The garden encompassing the summer residence, aqueduct, mill, the fountain with Neptune and nymphs and the belvedere pavilion overlooking the sea and islands is the finest example of Dubrovnik summer residence garden architecture.

Rijeka Dubrovačka

The mouth of the River Ombla lies at the western entrance to Dubrovnik. Upstream, around its source, several villages which make up Rijeka Dubrovačka are arrayed in a semicircle. This fjord-like valley is famous for several 15th and 16th century renaissance summer residences. One of the most prominent is the Sorkočević family summer residence housing the present day Dubrovnik ACI Marina, which offers shelter to numerous Croatian and foreign boats in summer and in winter. Among the summer residences which the Dubrovnik aristocrats built in Rijeka Dubrovačka the Sorokočević summer residence with its beautiful garden and steps is the best preserved.

Rijeka Dubrovačka abounds with bird species which live there, or which have only chosen the spring of the River Ombla for a resting post on their long journey. While enjoying your coffee by the Dubrovnik ACI Marina swimming pool, you will probably see ducks or gorgeous swans gliding on the green surface of the river. The entire area of Rijeka Dubrovačka has excellent regular bus connections with the Dubrovnik centre.

Mljet National Park

Famous for its stories and legends, the Island of Mljet is the largest island of the Dubrovnik Archipelago and the home of the Mediterranean monk seal. The island boasts a rich history and archaeological and cultural sites. The Mljet National Park is situated in the western part of the „green“ island. A one-hour boat ride departing from Gruž harbour will take you to the island, and a ferry connects it with the Pelješac Peninsula. The port of call on the Island of Mljet is Sobra, and during the tourist season a hydrofoil also operates from Dubrovnik to Polače, from where one can reach the national park by a mini-bus. One can rent a bicycle or a smaller car on the island, but vehicles are not allowed in the national park. You will be fascinated by the untouched nature in the park and by the beauty of the Great and Small Lakes connected with the open sea by a narrow channel. In the middle of the Great Lake stands the Isle of St Mary with the 12th century Benedictine Monastery of St Mary, which can be reached on a small boat. Do not miss the walks along the lovely wooded paths by the lake. You will take pleasure in the ancient pine forest reaching as far as the lake shore. In close proximity to the national park is the picturesque little harbour of Pomena, where the only hotel on the island – the Odysseus Hotel - is located. Pomena is one of the destinations in the famous South-Dalmatian Sailing Regatta which has traditionally taken place on the Dubrovnik-Mljet-Orebić route for many years now.

Elafite Islands

Apart from a large number of reefs and rocks, the Elafite, or Deer, Island group includes eight islands and five isles, of which only three are inhabited: Koločep, Lopud and Šipan. The Island of Koločep is the one closest to Dubrovnik. The settlements Gornje Čelo and Donje Čelo are situated in the two largest bays. The eastern and western parts of the island are covered with thick pine woods stretching as far as the sea rocks. The crystal azure sea abounds with fish and shellfish. The dwellers of Koločep used to be the best-known coral divers in the Mediterranean, but today they seldom dive and only for pleasure. Numerous monuments including the remains of sarco-phaguses, stone sculptures, chapels and churches show that the island was inhabited in the time of antiquity. Already the first encounter with Kalamota, as the people of Dubrovnik nick-name the Island of Koločep, will not leave you indifferent. You will be intoxicated by its deafening silence, the scent of the Mediterranean herbs and pines, and the blueness of the sea that washes its sandy beaches. The one standing in the middle is the island of Lopud, which abounds with beautiful sandy beaches. A boat will take you to the settlement of the same name, from where you can walk to the unique sandy Bay of Šunj on the opposite side of the island. Šunj is a well-known sandy beach, of which one part is reserved for naturists. Nature is not the only one who was generous to Lopud. The island also abounds with forts, little churches, summer residences and monasteries housing valuable works of art. Do not miss the easy early evening walk to Cape Benešin while the sun goes down into the sea, and visit the unique light installation, the art pavilion Your Black Horizon (www.tba21.org, www.tba21-croatia.org). Set in the rich renaissance environment of Lopud and preserved nature, it gives the landscape a new meaning. The biggest and most inhabited, the island of Šipán has a large number of vineyards and olive groves. The two biggest settlements are Šipanska Luka and Suđurađ. The inner side of the island abounds with shelters and natural anchorages of immense beauty, where the branches of pine trees reach the surface of the sea. In this small area there is a huge number of monuments, more than thirty churches, several monasteries and about sixty summer residences in gothic-renaissance style. The island dwellers are well-known for their hospitality. They will be happy to take you fishing and into the field, and will offer you healthy food and excellent wines from their fruit-bearing vineyards. You can reach the Elafite Islands by a boat departing from Gruž Harbour several times a day, or you can join some of the numerous tours organised by the Dubrovnik agencies.

Excursions

While staying in Dubrovnik, use the opportunity to visit many attractive resorts in the Dubrovnik Riviera.

A pleasant boat-ride will take you to the charming Elafite Islands rich in culture and natural attractions.

The Mljet National Park, the only national park in the south of Croatia, is an obligatory destination for lovers of untouched nature. While exploring the Island of Korčula you will discover the birth place of the famed seaman Marco Polo.

The island of Love – Lokrum is in close vicinity to the Old City. Its centuries of rich history, legends and tales, and the magic of the sea and nature will revive old loves and inspire new ones.

The local village households in the Dubrovnik Littoral, Župa Dubrovačka and Konavle are well-known for their characteristic atmosphere, customs and folklore, and particularly for their welcoming, cordial and cheerful hosts.

While you taste the delicious Dalmatian smoked ham, cheese and zelena menestra (smoked meat and cabbage stew) by the old fireplace, the host will propose a toast to you with a glass of excellent red or white wine, and your hair will smell of pine-wood, laurel, wormwood and other Mediterranean plants that grow wild within your reach.

The world's second longest wall (after the Great Wall of China) is the wall of Ston, the small town famous, among other things, for top-class shellfish, particularly oysters with aphrodisiac properties.

On the road to Ston is the Arcadian place Trsteno Arboretum, where one of the most beautiful women of the European Renaissance, the red-haired Dubrovnik poetess Cvijeta Zuzorić wrote her rhymes and fell in love. Take a walk under the crowns of ancient trees and see your reflection in the Neptune and Nymphs Fountain.

The Pelješac Peninsula is the best-known wine-growing area in the south of Croatia, where the wine routes take you to places where you can enjoy the typical Plavac Mali wine variety and the recently discovered truffles.

Thanks to its geographical position, Dubrovnik offers international one-day excursions to the Bay of Kotor (Montenegro), a pilgrimage to Međugorje and visits to Mostar, the meeting place of East and West.

CABRIO BUS

A new tourist attraction Cabrio or Panoramic Bus offers the outstanding opportunity for a panoramic tour of Dubrovnik. The Dubrovnik City Tour is designed for the visitors who wish to enjoy sight-seeing from the eastern to the western part of Dubrovnik, highlighting the memorable views over the Old City in the east and the new attraction – the Dubrovnik Bridge in the west. The tour includes a professional guide speaking some of the nine offered languages. The paintings on the buss is reminiscent of the old Dubrovnik tram, the one-time favourite means of transportation in Dubrovnik. The bus fare for the Cabrio tour grants you free transport on all local buses that same day.

The bus does not run in the case of bad weather.

Discover Dubrovnik in...

...one day

Make sure to begin your brief visit to Dubrovnik with a promenade in Stradun or Placa, the main street, while getting the first impressions of one of the Mediterranean's most beautiful cities. The astonishing city of stone is surrounded with 1,940 m long stone walls. A tour of the world's second most frequented open-air museum will definitely take your breath away. The fantastic views will inspire you to take some photographs, and the sights that you will capture will continue to amaze you over and over again. Visit the museums of Dubrovnik and find out where the rector of the glorious Dubrovnik Republic used to live, where grain was stored, which sailing ships formed parts of the powerful Dubrovnik Republic fleet travelling around the world, making Dubrovnik famous. Taste some of the delicious Mediterranean specialities at the taverns and restaurants of the Old City and complete the treat with a cup of coffee on Stradun. Buy some of the typical Dubrovnik souvenirs (delicacies, traditional filigree jewellery, a bronze statuette of St Blaise, Konavle embroidery...) to always remind you of the day when you began to discover Dubrovnik and inevitably fell in love with it forever, wishing to come back...

Dubrovnik offers numerous adventures within a three-day visit. If the reason for your visit to our city is culture, you'd better prepare yourselves because culture, arts and architecture are inseparable parts of Dubrovnik. Do not miss a visit to the Franciscan Monastery Museum with the artefacts of the Friars Minor Pharmacy from 1317.

The Dominican Monastery houses inspiring works by the members of the Dubrovnik 15th and 16th century school of painting and a canvas by the great Titian. The Cathedral treasury comprises silver and gold relics made by Dubrovnik goldsmiths from the 11th to 19th century. At the Rector's Palace try to conjure up the way the city was governed in the course of centuries and how freedom was guarded as the greatest treasure of the Dubrovnik Republic. Visit the Rupe Ethnographic Museum and learn more about the granary and storage of the state grain and wheat reserves in deep pits cut into the rock. Acquaint yourselves with the customs and folk costume of the Dubrovnik region. Walk the city walls, and make sure to visit the Maritime Museum in order to learn about the centuries-long seafaring tradition of the Dubrovnik Republic. Discover more about the famed seamen, and the mathematician Getaldić and the physicist Ruđer Bošković who calculated the loading capacity of the merchant ships karaka, galijun and nava. Climb Fort Lovrjenac, the Dubrovnik Gibraltar, and conjure up scenes from Shakespeare's Hamlet, Macbeth and Julius Caesar. Do not miss the opportunity to visit the small museum of the Dubrovnik Synagogue with numerous exhibits which testify to the life of the Jews in Dubrovnik. At the Dubrovnik Defenders Museum at Fort Imperial on Mount Srđ, reminisce about the recent past and suffering of Dubrovnik. In addition to doing the city walls tour, climbing the Dubrovnik steps, walking the narrow streets with clothes drying in the breeze, charming restaurants and shops, a cocktail sipped by the walls, the murmur of the sea at Buža, and a concert or play at some of the Dubrovnik festivals, make sure to save some time for visiting the places in the Dubrovnik surroundings. The island of Lokrum, also called the Island of Love, is in close vicinity to the Old City. Centuries of rich history, legends, tales and the magic of the sea and nature will revive old loves, or inspire new ones. The Arcadian idyll of the Trsteno Arboretum - where one of the most beautiful women of the European Renaissance, the red-haired Dubrovnik poetess Cvijeta Zuzorić wrote her verses and loved - invites you to take a walk in the shade of ancient trees and see your reflection in the Neptune and Nymphs Fountain.

Allow yourselves to enjoy swimming in the miraculously clean Adriatic, and take along a pebble from one of the white Dubrovnik beaches...

Many people definitely envy you - you are on a seven-day holiday in Dubrovnik! Forget stressful everyday life, explore, rest, bathe, walk, read, listen to music, idle...

With a pleasant Mediterranean climate, 2600 sunny days per year and protected nature, Dubrovnik offers you the opportunity to explore historical sites, museums and galleries, and to learn about the wisdom of our ancestors. Enhance your holiday with a tour of the city and its surroundings, tasting exquisite gastronomic specialities or attending sports events that will invigorate both your body and soul.

The mild climate, fortunately, enables sailing all the year round, so we recommend the Elafite Islands cruise where you can explore wooded untouched oasis, and where the nature lovers can enjoy picturesque villages on the island of Koločep, Lopud and Šipan and the island life so unlike that in the environment where you come from.

Take a tour of Ston, visit the salt works, taste the oysters of Mali Ston Bay and explore the wine route on the Pelješac Peninsula. While on Pelješac, take a ferry from Orebić and you will reach the Island of Korčula in no time. The medieval city of Korčula is encircled with city walls. With a neat layout and rows of gothic and renaissance buildings, Korčula is the native city of Marco Polo. The city boasts the traditional knightly dances moreška, moštra and kumpanija.

The most beautiful parts of the Dubrovnik Riviera include Cavtat and Konavle. Among many reasons why one should visit this area are the unique folk costumes, good wines, smoked ham, cheese kept in oil and the story of silk.

If you are a lover of hiking, the hills of Konavle are the right choice. At the hundred-year old mill on the River Ljuta housing the Konavoski Dvori Restaurant you may also taste freshwater fish. A jeep safari and horseback riding are only some aspects of the wide-ranging tourist services offered in Konavle. If you enjoy eating - and even picking - tangerines, birds watching and archaeology, the valley of the River Neretva - the biggest one in the region - is the right place for you. Make sure to visit the Island of Mljet, mentioned in the legends of Odysseus, St Paul, the Benedictines and the Mediterranean monk seal. With two unique seawater lakes surrounded by pine woods that reach the shore creating an atmosphere of untouched nature, the Mljet National Park is frequented by tourists the whole year round. Rent a bicycle and cycle to the woods and lake shore, or merely take a walk, smell pinewood and take a boat to the Isle of St Mary - situated in the middle of the Large Lake - and explore the 12th century Benedictine Monastery and Church.

After the excursions to its surroundings, the lovely beaches of Dubrovnik and crystal clear sea are waiting for you. Top quality hotels, superb wellness centres and more than a thousand different events throughout the year were created precisely for you and your memorable stay!

Where to have fun

The night has fallen on the city and the sky is lit with countless stars. Refreshed by swimming and sunbathing, you are relaxed and ready to go out.

Discover the street players, Dalmatian vocal groups, chamber music ensembles, troubadours and singers of serenades. While taking a walk in the streets you will hear the sounds of music coming under the Sponza Palace arcades. The enchanting ambience of the Rector's Palace is a favourite concert stage of the world's greatest musicians, and the city squares turn into theatre venues during the Dubrovnik Summer Festival. Discover the painter's rapture in the city galleries and the entertaining The Stars Under the Stars programmes on the terraces and beaches of the Dubrovnik hotels, and enjoy cocktails and street jazz sessions in the hot summer nights until daybreak. The wandering lights, excellent dance music and enchanting rhythms wait for you in the charming discotheques and night clubs. Trying out one's fortune in the games of chance with the attractive night programme is an option for the most persistent ones, who will wait for the Dubrovnik dawn and the sun which caresses the open sea, while they adventure into another unforgettable day.

Where to attend mass

If you stay in Dubrovnik for several days, you might like to attend mass in one of the beautiful ancient atmospheric churches where you will surely find peace in the dim light and smell of flowers and frankincense... It will be in complete contrast with the glaring summer sun reflecting on the white Dubrovnik stone and the bright summer clothes of its numerous visitors. The cool interior of the churches will feel good after an exhausting walk in the hot streets. You might only light a candle made of genuine yellow wax and perhaps be lucky enough to enter St Blaise's Church when somebody is playing the church organ, while the sun's rays shine through the stained-glass windows illuminating the dark space of the church.

Holy masses are held in almost all churches of Dubrovnik on a daily basis in the morning and in the evening. On Sundays you may attend holy masses on the hour from 7.00 am to 12.00 noon, and in the afternoon at some of the Old City churches. If you lose track of time while exploring cultural and historic sites, you will hear the sonorous sound of bells from church-towers summoning the faithful to prayer. In summer masses are held earlier in the morning and later in the evening than in the winter period. Holy masses in English language are held at the Jesuit Church on Sundays at noon (from the first Sunday in June to the last Sunday in September).

Where to shop

It is difficult to resist a beautiful memento of a travel or holiday.

Discover Dubrovnik in its typical souvenirs, candied almonds, arancini (candied orange peel), kontonjata (quince cheese), brandies with stories, top quality red and white wines, valuable stone-mason's handicrafts, golden olive oil, cold-pressed soaps with laurel and rosemary fragrance. In its squares Dubrovnik offers souvenirs made by the traditional craftsmen who are encouraged and co-financed by the City authorities, such as goldsmiths/filigree-makers, shoe-makers, barbers and leather-workers. Those who look for elegant and selected designer clothing, ultramodern glasses, Swarovski crystal and hand-made jewellery should visit the stores of Max Mara, Maria, La Boutique, Borza Group, and Đardin both in the Old City and in the shopping centres situated in the new part of Dubrovnik (Mercante and DOC).

10 souvenirs

The goldsmith's trade in Dubrovnik is one of the oldest, and certainly the best-known trades. While the beginnings of the goldsmith's trade in our city go back to the 13th century, it flourished in the 14th and 15th centuries. With their adroit hands the Dubrovnik goldsmiths made the favourite adornments of Dubrovnik ladies with special care, skill and artistry. The rečini (earrings) or puce (decorative buttons) which you purchase in Dubrovnik will definitely be lifetime souvenirs. The gold, filigree silver and coral jewellery is fascinating for its timeless beauty and workmanship, and its design matches all fashion styles. At their workshops situated in the Old City, the Dubrovnik goldsmiths Vierda, Kraljević and Jurišić still manufacture the valuable Dubrovnik jewellery using age-old methods (www.zlatarna-krizek.hr).

Returning home from a visit or holiday, take with you Dubrovnik delicacies such as kontonjata (quince cheese), mantala (must cheese), arancini (candied orange peel), caramelized almonds, dried figs, home-made fruit- and flower liqueurs and brandies with herbs. These traditional sweet delicacies and drinks are still made according to our grandmothers' traditional recipes. Arancini are made of chemical-free oranges, kontonjata of golden-yellow quince and mantala is a kind of must cheese. The figs, dried in the hot Dubrovnik sun which conserves their precious ingredients and sugar, are outstandingly delicious. Liqueurs are made of sour cherries, green walnuts, nespole and rose petals soaked in brandy and sugar and kept in the sun. If you present your nearest and dearest with one of these delicacies, you will give them a part of Dubrovnik...

A part of the Dubrovnik region, the wine-growing area of the Pelješac Peninsula is the homeland of Plavac Mali, the best-known variety of grape in the Croatian South. This type of wine is cultivated on slopes near the sea, embraced by the Mediterranean sun. The most famous are red wines with a specific taste - Plavac, Dingač and Postup. The white wine variety Pošip is grown on the Island of Korčula. The wine of the Dubrovnik aristocrats - Dubrovnik Malvasija, also called the „nectar of the gods", is a revived sort which is also grown in the Konavle area, where several top quality wines, both red and white, are produced for true wine-lovers and connoisseurs.

The Konavle embroidery is a basic decorative element of the women's national costume of this part of the Dubrovnik region. Applied on the bodice and cuffs, it was originally embroidered in silk thread - obtained from the silkworm that was solicitously bred in every house of Konavle - and dyed with natural colours. The strictly symmetrical geometric motifs were embroidered in a myriad of forms, most often in red, black and dark green with gold-yellow trimming. In the Old City of Dubrovnik you will see a woman embroiderer dressed in the original national costume of Konavle who diligently embroiders bookmarks, tablecloths and cushions which seem to tempt you take them into your home as a beautiful and unique souvenir.

Dubrovnik is a city built of stone; therefore take a little cube - a part of its huge shining walls - with you. The souvenirs in the stone-mason's workshop include the Maskeron - the stone mask one can see on several historic buildings of Dubrovnik, the Croatian wattle, crucifixes, forts and the huge old vessels which were once used for the storing of oil and which nowadays serve as decorative flowerpots. The little stone cross – pendants can also be a nice present, because the glow of the Dubrovnik stone and sun has been captured in these tiny pieces of stone.

Shops with authentic Croatian and genuine Dubrovnik souvenirs

The basis of Mediterranean healthy food – olive oil - is grown in the south of Croatia. With its golden-yellow hue, unique smell and fullness of taste it gives a new quality to every dish, especially that prepared from ecologically-grown food, with which our country abounds. Take with you the south Croatian olive oil. Taste it and let the fullness of its flavour remind you of the top quality gastronomy of the Dubrovnik region.

Unique cosmetics prepared from natural ingredients, fragrant herbs, medicinal plants and citrus fruits - let these completely ecological products be the choice of souvenirs that you will bring back for your friends from Dubrovnik. Essential massage oils contain the fullness of Mediterranean scents – lavender, rosemary, honey, lemon... The hand-made, cold-pressed soaps made exclusively of natural ingredients such as olive, palm- and almond oil, goat milk, essential oils and crushed almonds will give you the pleasure of natural care.

Products which also attract visitor's attention are cosmetic preparations from the Franciscan Pharmacy. The pharmacy, one of the oldest in Europe, is still working – in a modern way, of course – but uses the original 200-year old recipes. Products include Aqua Rosae, Aqua Rosmarini, Aqua Lavandulae, Gold Cream (wax and almond oil), Rose Cream with rose oil, Rosemary Cream, Moisturizing Cream with almond lotion, Wrinkle Proof Cream (cocoa butter and bergamot oil) and Lip Balm (wax and vanilla).

Works of art, paintings, sculptures, glassware and ceramics in which a part of the artist's soul is captured are also wonderful souvenirs from a trip. The streets of Dubrovnik are filled with galleries where you can see Croatian artist's exhibitions and choose some of the unique pieces of art as well as graphics. All gallery owners are well informed about the procedure of taking art objects out of Croatia. If you choose this kind of present you will have no difficulty at all, but a lasting memento to carry with you.

The delightful chocolate! Why not try some Croatian products of the kind? They are worth giving as presents to the people we love. Bayadera, Griotte chocolates in various flavours and the exquisite dark chocolates which bear the trademark of Croatia's genuine quality can be found in the specialised Kraš Shop in Stradun (the main street).

Did you know that the homeland of the necktie is Croatia? The traditional Croatian 17th century uniform attracted the attention of the then residents of Europe for the picturesque scarves tied around men's necks in a characteristic way. Ordinary soldiers wore ties made of coarse linen, whereas officers wore those made of silk and delicate cotton. You may find the story of the necktie (kravata in the Croatian language) as well as many top quality ties with the most recent design, typical Croatian motifs and modern patterns at the Croatia Shop facing the Rector's Palace, and at some other shops in the Old City.

Where to go swimming

The bluest point one can spot on the Earth from outer space is the Adriatic, the incomparably unpolluted and clear sea that washes the shore and islands of the Dubrovnik area.

Heterogeneous and diversity are the main features of the beaches in Dubrovnik and its surroundings, so that every visitor can find the one that suits him best... shallow sandy and pebble beaches for families with children, romantic and sheltered coves, fashionable beaches with the most up-to-date facilities, night parties and sports programmes and quiet little bays and rocks for lovers of diving. According to the opinion poll on www.trivago.co.uk, Dubrovnik was included in the top five most beautiful Mediterranean beaches, among the 50 most popular European beaches competing. With the exception of several sandy beaches, the beaches in the Dubrovnik area are either pebbly or rocky. The most popular sandy beach in the vicinity of Dubrovnik is the Šunj beach on the island of Lopud. The Dubrovnik ACI Marina and many hotel beaches in Dubrovnik are marked with the Blue Flag, the most valuable ecological sign of unpolluted sea and beach, and of well-equipped and maintained beaches and marinas. A naturist beach is situated on the island of Lokrum, also called the island of love, which has many sheltered coves and places for lovers. The Copacabana beach is equipped with an elevator for disabled people providing easy access to the sea. The Banje, Uvala Lapad and Copacabana beaches offer numerous entertaining and sports programmes throughout the day and until the late night hours.

Our beaches can be reached by boat, on foot, by car ... but the moment you arrive at a small hidden beach, it becomes your unique place, a place where you can rest and relax, an escape from the stresses of everyday life, enjoy the clear blue sea with the song of crickets in the tops of pine trees.

Where to go for recreation

Heading to one of the nearby beaches is the best thing to do during hot summer days in Dubrovnik. Swimming in the clear and warm sea will surely relax and refresh you. For those who wish more, the beaches of Dubrovnik offer additional options. Rent a pedallo or scooter and visit picturesque coves in the vicinity of the beach, take a banana boat ride, water-ski and windsurf. If you have a spirit of adventure, take a kayak at Pile at the foot of Fort Lovrjenac. Row to the island of Lokrum and Bete Cave and admire the view of the stone walls on your way back. You can explore the Dubrovnik sea bed, enjoy the silence and mystery of the depths and visit protected submarine archaeological sites within the special programmes offered by the diving and water sports centres located at some of the Dubrovnik beaches. To tennis fans Lapad offers tennis courts at Babin Kuk, the Bay of Lapad and Gospino Polje, from where you can take a walk to the nearby Gorica Svetoga Vlaha hill with the little Church of St Blaise. Every year, at the closing of St Blaise Festival the church is visited by a procession of people carrying banners. From the hill you can enjoy magnificent views over the City and open sea.

If you stay at one of the top class hotels at Ploče, do not miss a morning jog or an easy walk to the Sveti Jakov area. At sunset return to your hotel and relax at the wellness centre, have a massage, swim in the swimming pool, or choose one of the beauty treatments.

Climb the Dubrovnik walls. This amazing 2-kilometre long walk offers memorable views over the city and open sea.

The Lapad promenades by the sea are waiting for you, even in the mild Dubrovnik winter. It is a real pleasure to walk from the Bay of Lapad, head to the Neptune Hotel with a superb view of the rocks and lighthouse, proceed through Babin Kuk to Copacabana Beach and further along the seashore to the Orsan Sailing Club, where you can refresh yourselves with a fruit juice or cup of coffee.

To those in good shape we recommend climbing Mount Srđ, which offers a breathtaking view over the entire city, surrounding area, open sea and islands. Do not miss a visit to the museum at Fort Imperial – the symbol of the city defence during the Croatian War of Independence. To true adventure lovers we recommend a tour of the beautiful Konavle countryside in small ATV vehicles, for which one does not need driving experience. This is where you can try your skill at recreational horseback riding and explore the Konavle area in a different way – taking the 11-kilometre long „blue route“ through olive-groves, woods and along the steep Konavle coast from where you can admire the spectacular view. If you become hungry after all this, do not miss savouring local smoked ham, cheese and wine. Intoxicated with beauty, your body and soul rejuvenated, you will come back to the pleasant atmosphere of your hotel and a relaxing bath at your wellness centre.

Visit the southernmost part of the Croatian coast, the Prevlaka Park. Croatia's biggest free climbing centre, the park also offers biking, adventure-walks and a tour of the labyrinth of tunnels that was once constructed for military purposes. Among other numerous programmes designed to make your active holiday in Dubrovnik unforgettable are big game fishing, fishing by day and night in Cavtat, sailing on rented sailboats, the salt harvest at the Ston Salt Works, a jeep safari in Konavle and bicycle ride through the unique national park on the island of Mljet.

Wellness

Harmony of Spirit and Body in a Perfect Environment.

For guests on short visits as well as those on longer visits to Dubrovnik it is essential to feel good and provide their bodies with much needed strength and energy by exercising in water and gym, or swimming. In addition to long walks by the sea, where the air is filled with the fragrances of the Mediterranean, hotel guests rejuvenate their bodies and spirits enjoying the magic of the baths of ancient civilisations, the breath of the Orient and the healing circulation of water.

People who are looking for the best will find a perfect blend of old and new in Dubrovnik, as well as the harmony of architecture and nature, peace and elegance, and the surprising pulse of a modern city. In Dubrovnik you will meet tourists who search for peace and are focused on history and culture, but also those attracted by active holidays.

Dubrovnik is characterised by high quality hotels. Out of a total of forty hotels, twelve are five-star hotels. In accordance with modern tourist trends, the hotels offer the most up-to-date wellness and spa facilities. The Dubrovnik hotels' wellness centres have been repeatedly awarded Croatian and international prizes for the high quality services they offer in premises designed to provide relaxation and soothe the senses. Special attention is paid to natural elements, minimalist decor and selected music, which creates an atmosphere of refined calmness with a view over the turquoise sea.

One can achieve a balance of spirit and body and relax from the stress of everyday life in different saunas, cold, hot, Turkish, Finish and other baths, using various kinds of Eastern massage and aromatherapy...

Children activities

If you have decided to spend your holiday in Dubrovnik with children, we recommend you to choose accommodation first. Dubrovnik offers high quality hotels and private accommodation with an adequate range of prices. Depending on your budget, at the price of several hundred kunas per day you can stay in one of the private apartments or at a 3-star hotel, while 4 and 5-star hotels also offer special discounts for children.

We recommend accommodation in the areas of Lapad and Babin Kuk, where you can spend a lot of time in the open air, walk by the sea and along the beaches. Go for a stroll in the Bay of Lapad, take coffee, eat ice-cream, pancakes and pizza, and let your children run free on the beach or play in nearby places with various programmes for children. King Zvonimir Promenade in the Bay of Lapad is a pedestrian zone. A walking path by the sea connects it with the green areas in Babin Kuk ideal for playing ball, riding a bicycle, table-tennis and minigolf in the open air. Babin Kuk is just a short walk away from Copacabana Beach, located on the opposite side of the peninsula, where you can rest over coffee and fruit juice, while your children run along the beach and throw pebbles into the sea.

Go to the city centre, visit the Aquarium, the Natural Science Museum and walk the city walls. Refresh yourselves with a cup of coffee, tea or fruit juice in front of the City Café, Snack Bar or Cele Bar while watching your children play at ease with the Dubrovnik kids in front of St Blaise's Church.

A ten-minute boat ride from the Old City harbour will take you to the nearby Island of Lokrum. This half-day excursion offers swimming in the Dead Sea, walks in the groves with peacocks and exotic rare plants in the botanical garden.

Spend a day in Medena Valley on Bosanka above Dubrovnik. Your children may enjoy fresh air, riding ponies and meeting other domestic animals in this small children's kingdom. If you decide to stay longer, do not miss a visit to Konavle and enjoy horseback riding. On your departure, before your plane takes off, make sure to visit Đurović Cave situated under the runway at the Dubrovnik Airport.

If you come to Dubrovnik in summer, you can do all this after a day spent on the Dubrovnik beaches swimming in the crystal clear sea. If you get bored with your hotel beach, take a whole day excursion to the sandy beaches on the Elafite Islands and in Slano, and pebble beaches in Bršečine and Srebreno. The sea and sun will improve your health in the forthcoming winter, and the photographs of your children swimming for the first time, diving, jumping into the sea, kayaking and pedalling will remind you of your memorable stay in Dubrovnik.

Your children will certainly ask you: „When are we going to Dubrovnik again?“
